Council Gives First Reading to Ordinance Hiking Chief's Salary

An ordinance proposing to raise the city engineer's salary $1,300 a year was given a first reading only in a brief, 30-minute session of Marion City Council Monday night.

It was the only piece of legislation considered by the councilmen. An amendment to it was adopted but two motions to adopt it as emergency legislation were defeated.

Mayor Says One Man Enough

The discussion started when Mayor Wendell L. Strong, in answer to a question by Councilman Harold Smith (D-at large), said he felt a capable city engineer could handle the duties of both the city and the sanitary engineers. He said that the ordinance should have contained a section eliminating the post of sanitary engineer.

Mr. Smith moved an amendment to abolish this post and this was followed by a discussion led off by Emmett Osterholt (R-6th).

He said he felt it a mistake to cut back the engineering department. "We have tried for several years to build up the . . . department so it could do any job asked of it," he said.

He said there is still a need for a sanitary engineer in the face of the sewer improvements proposed in the city's sewer master plan.

Mr. Smith retorted that the present sanitary engineer, T. A. Klingler, who also has been serving as acting city engineer, is capable of doing both jobs. Mayor Strong interjected with the remark that he wanted to make it clear that he has not discussed a possible appointment as city engineer with Mr. Klingler.

Prefers Larger Staff

Taking the floor again, Mr. Osterholt said that he felt there is sufficient work still pending to occupy the time of both a city engineer and sanitary engineer. He mentioned the planned $500,000 one-way street improvement now being programmed by the state highway department and the Davids St. relief and Silver St. trunk

Plane Carrying 15 Lost in Aleutians

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Bad weather and early darkness stalled the search Monday night for an Air Force C54 with 15 aboard, missing and believed down along the rugged Aleutian chain.

The big, four-engined plane took off from Elmendorf Air Force Base here Monday morning and disappeared from the radarscope 47 minutes later. It was headed for the refueling and radar base at Shemya, a tiny island in the North Pacific.

The last fix on the plane was over the Iliamna Mountains, about 190 miles southwest of here. Amphibians and helicopters searched the flight route before being forced in by weather and darkness. All aboard were military personnel. Names were withheld pending next of kin.

Old Transfer Rescinded

Citizens Will Vote On School Choice

The Marion County Board of Education has rescinded, effective immediately, the 1954 transfer of three parcels of land located in the old Marion Local School District to the Marion City School District.

Residents of the three areas are to be given an opportunity to express their preference for a school district at the next general election.

THESE TWO decisions were made at a special meeting of the County board Monday night in the office of D. T. Mills, county superintendent of schools.

The action rescinding the land transfers came following the reading of a resolution to that effect drawn up by William Knepper of the Columbus law firm of Knepper, White, Richards, Miller and Roberts, legal counsel for the county board in the long litigation involving the dissolution of the Marion Local district, which began in December of 1953.

Involved are an area along U.S. Rt. 30-S west of Marion, the Woods addition east of the city and territory southwest of the city on which is located the Sawyer Sanatorium.

THE TRANSFERS, including an equitable division of funds and indebtedness, were effected originally when the board moved to comply with a state law ordering the dissolution of any school district not operating a school, a category into which the Marion Local district fell.

Suits filed by the district's board and several of its taxpayers followed, however, and the resultant litigation was not ended until a few weeks ago when the last of the suits was dropped. In the interim, the case went to the Ohio Supreme Court, where a finding was handed down in favor of the county board.

The resolution rescinding the transfer was drawn up after it was ascertained that the Marion city board had not at any time during the approximately five years since the transfers were made effected any move to accept the land areas, although the areas in question were not involved in the court action, Mr. Mills told the board.

In addition to rescinding the transfers, the board agreed to take such action as deemed proper for the purpose of "determining to what school district or districts the remaining territory of the Marion Local School District should be joined."

It remains now for the residents in those three areas to determine to which school district

Accepts Invitation

De Gaulle To Pay State Visit to U.S. Next Spring

PARIS (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle has accepted an invitation to make a state visit to the United States early next spring, informed sources disclosed today.

De Gaulle, who takes office as president of France Jan. 8, was first invited to the United States by President Eisenhower July 5, after he took over the reins of the French government. The invitation was renewed last month by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles when he called on De Gaulle during the NATO Council meeting in Paris.

De Gaulle turned down the first invitation to visit the United States last summer, explaining he had too many urgent problems to settle. They included a series of reforms in France's political and administrative system which now have been largely completed.

De Gaulle, who assumed power June 1, will be the first French chief of staff to visit the United States since ex-President Vincent Auriol went there shortly after World War II.

Unlike his predecessors at the presidency, De Gaulle will have clear powers to negotiate with President Eisenhower. Under the constitution for the new Fifth Republic, the president has a strong voice in running foreign affairs and can personally negotiate international treaties.

The date of his trip will not be set definitely until after De Gaulle's installation as President.

One of the major items De Gaulle is expected to take up with Eisenhower is the Premier's plan to cap the Atlantic Alliance with a three-power directorate made up of the United States, Britain and France.

Ike Balances Budget With Spending Cut

Plans for $77 Billion Outlay 'Unrealistic,' Is Democrats' Charge

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's plan for a 77-billion-dollar balanced budget next year was described by Democrats as unrealistic today, but Republicans called it a welcome Christmas present to the taxpayers.

Eisenhower's announcement of his budget plans, unprecedented in advance of the opening of Congress, said defense spending would be higher and other expenditures "consistent with the public interest" without any general increase in taxes.

$2-Billion Below '58 Figure

His approximate 77-billion-dollar spending figure would be two billions below this year's estimated $79,200,000,000 total. At that level, a 12-billion-dollar deficit is expected this year, partly because the recession cut expected federal revenues.

Eisenhower originally had forecast a 500-million-dollar surplus for this year, based on lower spending, higher revenues and a postal rate increase higher than that Congress later provided.

Without giving details, Eisenhower said "reductions in total spending will be achieved in part by reason of the ending of temporary programs in agriculture, unemployment insurance and housing."

Due to expire next year are part of the soil bank program and a recession-born program of extended unemployment compensation benefits.

Increases Sought

Although no general tax increase is to be asked, Eisenhower said—again without giving details — that his budget will request higher postal rates and gasoline taxes, and some new user charges for government services.

Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo), whose house appropriations committee will have first crack at Eisenhower's appropriations requests, said he is gratified at the

Pontiff Urges Peace in First Yule Message

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII, in his first Christmas address, urged the world to Christian unity and peace today. But he said his plea was not likely to be heard in Communist-ruled lands.

The 77-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church asked men of faith to put aside military and violent thoughts.

Then, in the next breath, he warned them to be vigilant "in the night that is darkening" and ready to defend Christian principles against the "insidiousness of the enemies of God"—a clear reference to atheistic communism.

The Pope paid high tribute to his predecessor, the late Pope Pius XII, who during his long reign delivered 19 Christmas messages to the world in which he invariably pleaded for peace and Christian unity.

The new pontiff said man's unwillingness to submit to the grace of God in unity and peace "was the most terrible problem of human history and of the lives of individual men and people."

Pope John said the broken unity of "the heredity of Christ" continues to be a grave problem, but that his own efforts would be unflagging toward "those dear, separated brothers who bow to the name of Christ and read the Holy Bible."

Then the pope added, in a sharp criticism of Communist-ruled lands, "in many parts of the world there is no ear for this invitation (to unity and peace)." In those areas, he said, the "most sacred concepts are suffocated or have been suppressed."

Cost of Living Bounces Back To Peak Level

Government Figures For November Show Rise Over Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs edged back up last month to their record peak of last July. And, at the same time, average earnings of factory workers climbed to record heights.

Influenced chiefly by the higher prices for 1959 automobiles, the cost of living index rose two-tenths of one per cent between October and November to 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This equals the record reached last July and is about two per cent higher than in November of last year.

Earnings Rise Sharply

Reporting this today, the Labor Department said November also saw a sharp rise in factory worker spendable earnings and buying power. This resulted both from higher hourly pay and increasing work hours.

The after-tax earnings of the average factory worker with three dependents rose to $78.41 a week. For the single worker it was $70.93. These were both new records, about $1.30 per week higher than in October and about $3 above November 1957.

Purchasing Power Still Low

Buying power of these earnings rose substantially, too, in November but worker dollar purchasing power still is below the November 1949 level.

The previous records on earnings were in September. Government figures for that month were $77.43 for the average worker with three dependents and $69.97 for the worker without dependents.

Ewan Clague, Labor Department statistics commissioner, said today that greater sales of 1959 model cars at higher prices in November was the major factor in the new living cost climb. Most other groups of goods and services advanced in price, but food and gasoline prices were lower.

The rise in living costs will mean a one-cent-an-hour pay increase for about one million work-

Last Appeal Made For Christmas Aid

A plea for food or money to put Christmas dinner on the table of every needy family in the city is being made today by Give-a-Christmas Clearinghouse workers and Salvation Army officials.

With nearly 100 cases remaining on file at the clearinghouse and Christmas Eve just one day away, efforts are being intensified to reach every conscientious resident with the need for help.

MANY generous contributions from individuals and organizations already have made it possible to remove some 230 cases from the clearinghouse files, insuring that Christmas joy will reach into many poverty-stricken homes.

But what of the others? The appeal must be answered now if they are to be remembered even with just food.

Although less help has been offered for the needy this year than at this time in 1957, welfare officials are holding out hope that residents will answer the appeal for aid in time for the holiday.

In prayerful anticipation of more gifts, they plan to provide either grocery orders or a food basket for every needy family who requests them, whether or not the name has appeared on the clearinghouse list.

Mrs. Howard Williams, chairman of the clearinghouse, stressed this morning that where need can be proven, the gift will not be denied.

Along with the food, toys for children under 10 years of age will be furnished.

Indigent families may pick up both the food and toys at the Salvation Army today or Wednesday.

How To Make a Gift

To give a Christmas, telephone 3-2313 or visit clearinghouse headquarters at the Salvation Army Citadel, corner of Windsor and W. Church streets, for names of indigent persons or families. Cash contributions particularly are needed. Make checks payable to Give-a-Christmas and send to clearinghouse headquarters.

The clearinghouse and Army will remain open as long as necessary.

Mrs. Williams pointed out that the 230 families whose Christmas is being provided through a generous individual or organization may look for their gifts either today or Wednesday. Most of these will be delivered personally to the home.

SINCE THE families whose help already has been assured have not been contacted, these groups are welcome to inquire at the Salvation Army. Mrs. Wiliams pointed out, however, that their aid will not be duplicated.

Families already removed from the files therefore will not be entitled to pick up food and toys at

Appointments Announced

Three More Assistants Named to DiSalle Staff

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov.-elect Michael V. DiSalle today completed selection of three assistants for his personal Statehouse staff.

He appointed Rankin M. Gibson, 42, of Toledo to handle legal research, extraditions, communications and legislative research in the Democratic administration that takes over Jan. 12 from GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill.

Other assistants to the governor named previously were Maurice Connell of Toledo to head the Statehouse office staff and Jerry Poston, former legislative correspondent of the Dayton Daily News, for press relations and liaison with the Legislature and state departments.

Gibson was in the Toledo law firm of DiSalle, Green & Haddad that dissolved after DiSalle won the gubernatorial election.

He was an associate professor of law in the University of Toledo before associating with the law firm. Between 1941-56 he served intermittently as enforcement commissioner for the economic stabilization agency. He also worked for a time with the National Wage Stabilization Board in Washington.

DiSalle Monday named James Maloon, 32, head of the State Tax Department's Research Division, as his finance director and John (Jack) Bush, 49, former state purchasing agent, to head the Commerce Department.

Earlier he appointed Everett S. Preston, 47, head of a Columbus road planning and design firm, as state highway director, and

Fire Breaks Out in Wake Of Collision

Spectators Gathered At Accident Caught In Brownfield Blast

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Four men perished when a bottled gas truck blew up in a shattering eruption of shooting flames and flying steel Monday night. An estimated 160 persons, most of them spectators, suffered wounds and burns.

About 45 remained hospitalized today.

"The whole sky seemed to be on fire," a witness exclaimed.

The cries of the injured filled the air at the scene, on the outskirts of this west Texas city of 7,000.

Community Rallies Aid

The community turned out to help the wounded and burned.

Soon the Terry County Hospital could receive no more, and doctors and nurses sent them to nearby towns.

Killed were the truck driver, two firemen and a spectator.

The fire which caused the explosion was set off by the collision of the bottled gas truck and a pickup truck. The cab of the cab-trailer truck overturned.

The spectacular fire drew an estimated 250 spectators.

Firemen said the three-compartment, gas tank caught fire at both ends and the center tank exploded later, shooting metal and flames into the massed crowd, some standing in the immediate area and the remainder across the highway.

20 Alongside Truck

Twenty firemen were alongside the truck.

The Rev. James Tidwell, Methodist minister, was credited by rescue directors with greatly speeding relief for the injured.

The minister, from the hospital grounds, saw the flash of the explosion. He alerted the hospital staff that injuries would be great because he had seen the large crowd around the gas truck.

Blood offers came from Brownfield citizens almost simultaneously with the explosion. There were more offers than were needed.

Seven Brownfield doctors, a medical student, a minister with some medical training, two Levelland doctors and three military

Rainfall Forecast For Marion Area

The possibility of a white Christmas appeared virtually out of the question this morning, as the weatherman forecast rain for tonight and Wednesday. With temperatures expected to climb to 38 Wednesday, chances are good that snow still left on the ground will be all but melted by Thursday.

A high of 36 was recorded Monday, and thawing snow and ice soaked streets and sidewalks. The overnight low was a relatively warm 32 and this morning's air was heavy with the suggestion of impending rain.

The low this morning made it the second warmest night this month. The mercury fell to 33 Dec. 5, but two days later dropped to 9 above and went from there to a cold spell that found it below zero for almost a week.

The mercury stood at 41 at noon today, with a high of 50 predicted. Tonight's low is expected to be 34, with a chance that cooler degrees will slide into the area on the wings of Wednesday's rain.

Galion Fireman Makes Good as Chef

Charles Lamb Observes 25th Anniversary in Department Friday

GALION — For the last 25 years at least one of the shifts at the Galion Fire Department has been eating mighty good home cooking while on duty.

Charles (Bus) Lamb who does the cooking for his shift, is the third Galion firemen to join the 25-Year "Club" in the department this year. Fire Chief John A. Durtschi became a 25-year man on March 3, and Fireman Leo Fabian was the second, Dec. 7.

—:—

"I'M ALMOST afraid to say anything about my anniversary," chuckles Mr. Lamb, "because the biggest fire of the year came on Leo Fabian's."

A disastrous fire, Dec. 7, destroyed the Starkey Machinery, Inc., the former E. M. Freese and Co., an industrial landmark.

Mr. Lamb has been a regular man in the department since he was appointed by the late Dr. H. H. Hartmann the day after Christmas in 1933. He's been there since, and he's been a regular cook.

The men on his shift praise his spaghetti and meat balls, and Mr. Lamb has a special recipe of his own for meat loaf. He prefers to cook good old fashioned food, the kind a fireman likes to eat any time.

Mr. Lamb wasn't on the fire truck when he had his one accident as he was en route to a fire. He was riding in a car driven by his chief, the late Harry F. Kile. The Dice Rd., north of Galion, was icy when Chief Kile ran off it and hit a bridge abutment. Fireman Lamb lost some teeth, and had to have stitches taken to close cuts on his lower lip, face and head. He missed only a couple of days from the fire station.

ATHLETICALLY inclined, "Bus" Lamb played baseball with the city team several years ago, and football with the Galion Eagles' teams. He served on the East Side Park Board, and helped to develop the park. Mr. Lamb likes to fish well enough that he has a boat docked at Marblehead. He hunts, too.

Interested in working with boys, Mr. Lamb turned his attention to Boy Scout activities. He served as Scoutmaster for Troop 2 at the East School for seven years and is still serving as a merit badge counselor for the Scouts.

The quarter of a century celebrant was born in Galion Dec. 6, 1907, and attended the Galion schools. He worked at the former Galion Metallic Vault Co., and was building road rollers for the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. when he aswered the call to become a fire fighter.

Married, Mr. Lamb resides at 133 S. Jefferson St. He attends Peace Lutheran Church and has a lodge affiliation with the Galion Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles.

FIREMAN MARKS ANNIVERSARY. Charles (Bus) Lamb will observe his 25th year on the Galion Fire Department Dec. 26 and probably will mark the day by cooking up a special dinner for the men at the fire station. Mr. Lamb has made quite a reputation for himself among the firemen for his tasty dishes.

Fire Department Honors Two Men

GALION — The two Galion firemen who have 25th anniversaries this month as regular men in the Galion Fire Department were recognized and honored by their chief and fellow firemen Monday night.

The affair was a surprise for Leo P. Fabian and Charles (Bus) Lamb. They were presented with $25 government bonds and a fireman's badge for 25 years of service. Chief John A. Durtschi, who earlier this year observed his 25th anniversary, made the presentation.

The regular meeting of Local 435 of the International Association of Firefighters also was held at this time, with Captain Joel Martien presiding.

Yule Concert Slated

The Marion Symphony Orchestra will present its annual Christmas concert over WMRN Thursday from 7:45 p.m. to 8 p.m., Edward A. Miller, director, announced today.

Among the numbers to be heard will be "Around the Christmas Tree," a medley of best loved carols.

Delaware Mayor Backs Income Tax

DELAWARE — The enactment of a city income tax was advocated this week by Delaware Mayor Paul B. White.

Mayor White, answering a letter from the Delaware Chamber of Commerce about the need for more city finances, said he felt a city income tax is the only logical solution for Delaware which has rejected a city operating levy several times.

Mayor White said most of the people in the city do not comprehend the need for more finances despite the fact that "everything possible has been done to acquaint the people of city operation."

The mayor's letter cited the "lethargy of our citizens in providing for the necessary needs of our community."

Loss $20,000 in Blast

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An explosion, possibly caused by gas escaping in the basement, caused an estimated $20,000 damage to a restaurant here Monday. A porter, Willie Tucker, 30, and Earl Evans, 44, who was delivering coal in the basement, were treated at Miami Valley Hospital.

Counsel for Pacifist Minister Set To Appeal His Conviction

CINCINNATI (AP)—A pacifist minister here who won't pay his income tax has a new chance to appeal his federal court conviction.

His court-appointed attorneys filed notice of appeal Monday in U.S. District court just 40 minutes before the deadline.

But the Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin hasn't made up his mind whether to try to have set aside his conviction for ignoring a summons to discuss his taxes.

One attorney, Theodore M. Berry, said no word has come since Friday from the minister's county jail cell. The Rev. Mr. McCrackin said earlier he wants no appeal.

Berry and Fred A. Dewey, the other court-named lawyer, said in a statement Monday they think there are good grounds for appeal.

They said their action was to safeguard the minister's rights in case he has a change of heart on fighting the conviction.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin was convicted Dec. 12 and sentenced to six months in prison and a $250 fine.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin says that income tax helps pay for arms and war weapons and that is why he has paid little or no tax in the past ten years.

Quizzed in Death of Nurse

Two Men, Woman Held In Slaying in California

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—"It's a lie, of course," says Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan of the charge that she hired two men to kill her daughter-in-law. "Those men were trying to blackmail me."

Authorities say Mrs. Duncan, 54, and five times wed, hired the murder of pretty Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, because she was fiercely jealous of the Canadian nurse who married her son, a Santa Barbara lawyer.

"I feel terrible about it," Mrs. Duncan told newsmen Monday when they asked how she felt when informed that Olga's body had been found in a shallow grave 20 miles from Ventura. "I liked her and I believe she liked me."

Disputes Story

But Augustine Baldonado, 25, who led sheriff's deputies to the spot where Olga Duncan was buried — perhaps alive — said Mrs Duncan offered him and Luis Maya, 22, $6,000 to kill the woman.

"She told us she had acid and pills to do the job with," said Baldonado. "She wanted us to use the acid on her face, and said this would destroy her dental work, so she could not be identified." They did not carry out this part of the plan, however, he said.

Baldonado said Moya went to Olga's Santa Barbara apartment late at night on Nov. 17 and told the nurse a friend of his was sick in a car outside. The nurse, clad in a bathrobe, went to the car.

"I was lying on the floor in the back," said Baldonado. "When she opened the door, I grabbed her, and Moya hit her with the gun."

Put Up Fierce Struggle

The nurse put up a fierce struggle as they drove toward a lonely mountain pass near the coast, Baldonado said, and he and Moya beat her with their fists and the gun, and choked her repeatedly. They scooped out a grave with their bare hands and put her in it.

Coroner Virgil L. Payton said she died of asphyxia "either through strangulation or by being buried alive." The pretty nurse was five months pregnant.

Mrs. Duncan branded Baldonado's story a complete lie.

"She threatened to hurt me and Frank," said Mrs. Duncan. "Those two men were just collecting for her. That's why I paid them the money."

Authorities said the men were paid a few hundred dollars by Mrs. Duncan after the nurse was killed.

Mrs. Duncan, Baldonado and Moya are booked in Ventura County jail on suspicion of murder. Moya has also denied Baldonado's story.

Don't Drive if Drinking

Police Yourself and Cut Accidents, Patrol Urges

The Ohio Highway Patrol today expressed the hope that the coming Christmas-New Year's holiday period will not be as tragic as it was last year when 130 persons died on the state's highways and streets.

Noting that 24 of last year's holiday deaths occurred on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, the patrol said in today's announcement that the solution to the problem is a puzzler.

Capt. D. W. Unkle, chief of enforcement, declared:

"By now, the people know that the highway patrol and all other police agencies concentrate their forces for duty during these periods. We make a lot of arrests and there's still a lot of accidents."

BECAUSE THE number of patrolmen and policemen who are available for traffic control are limited "we must appeal to the individual to police himself and his friends to keep alive," he said.

Of the 1,830 traffic accidents investigated from Dec. 20 to Jan. 5 last year, almost every fifth one involved a drinking driver, Capt. Unkle reported. And, he believes there were a number of others that went undetected.

Chemical tests possibly would have shown that more than one-half of the drivers involved in accidents had been drinking, and even though moderate, this is what caused them to drive left of center, fail to see traffic lights, drive at high speeds and other recklessness which resulted in smashups, he believes.

"I am firmly convinced," Capt. Unkle said, "that if we can keep the drinking driver off the highway, we can cut accidents in half over the holidays."

PEOPLE GET UP in arms over a murder with a gun or other weapon, but shrug their shoulders over the highway toll with the general attitude "There's nothing I can do about it."

But Capt. Unkle said there is something everyone can do about it. It is to keep elbow bending friends from behind the wheel and do the same yourself when you have lifted a few — meaning from two to two dozen —, he said.

The captain said that with the long holiday weekends, possible severe weather and too much holiday spirits could result in 200 deaths in the state by the end of the holiday period on Jan. 5.

Lawson Milk Co. Of Akron Sold to Firm in Chicago

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The board chairman of Lawson Milk Co. of Akron said Monday night the firm has been sold to Consolidated Foods Corp. of Chicago. Purchase price was reported as about 10 million dollars.

J. J. Lawson, founder in 1934 of the family-owned milk company, said he would continue as chairman of the Lawson board and would become a director of Consolidated. Consolidated directors will join the Lawson board, he said and added:

"The management of the Lawson company will remain the same.

"Our policies will go on as before. What this means is that we will now be able to grow faster. You will not see any changes unless it is a quickening of our growth."

The Lawson company is best known for selling milk in gallon jugs.

"We have 173 stores in the Cleveland-Canton-Akron area now, 38 of them new this year," Lawson said.

"We had shot for 40, but we got a late start. Next year we will have many more," he continued.

The sale of the company, Lawson said, was based on his desire to retire and because of the poor health of his son, Richard, company president.

Circuit Leader Plans Visit to Local Church

Today through Sunday the semi-annual visit of the Jehovah's Witnesses circuit supervisor, Paul A. Allen, will be held here as part of an advanced training program for members of the congregation.

Originally from Massachusetts, Mr. Allen was previously a missionary to Venezuela and he has been on speaking tours throughout this country.

A portion of time each day will be devoted to field missionary service for which Mr. Allen will join in making calls on residents of the city, a part of the regular door-to-door program. At 8 p.m. Saturday a Bible question period, "New Things Learned," will be held at Kingdom Hall with audience participation. A 30-minute discourse by the supervisor will be on "improving one's personal ministry."

Sunday at 4 p.m. a highlight will be the public lecture by the guest worker on "Is Love Practical Among the Nations in Our Time?" A congregational Bible study using the Watchtower magazine as an aid and final remarks by the speaker will close the special effort. There will be no collections received.

New Tax on Amusement Devices Will Start Jan. 1

COLUMBUS — A new federal law which levies an annual tax of $10 on each amusement device and $250 on each gaming device, regardless of how they are operated, will become effective Jan. 1, 1959.

Nathaniel Looker, Columbus district director of internal revenue, said the old law, which expires Dec. 31, imposes the tax only on devices operated by insertion of a coin, token or similar object.

He said that under the new law, every "slot machine" will be taxed, and this includes all machines which pay off in cash, premiums, merchandise or tokens.

Mental Check Set For Youth Held in Columbus Killing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—David S. Smith, the 20-year - old part-time student at Ohio State University accused of the sex slaying of Mrs. Janice O. Porter, 24, a neighbor, entered Lima State Hospital Monday for a 30-day period of observation.

Smith, who has been charged with first degree murder, confessed he shot Mrs. Porter after making a criminal assault on the pregnant woman, deputy sheriffs said.

He has pleaded innocent to the slaying by reason of insanity.

The youth already has been examined by a private psychiatrist at the request of his attorney, Russell S. Welch. Commitment to the mental hospital was made by Common Pleas Judge George B. Marshall at the request of Earl W. Allison, assistant prosecutor.

If found sane, Smith will be returned to Columbus for action by the grand jury.

Need for Research Funds Explained To Cancer Group

Mrs. William C. Kimball, executive secretary of the Marion County chapter of the American Cancer Society, has returned home from a five-day meeting in Columbus, sponsored by the national group.

During the program it was pointed out that $1,500,000 has been allocated to leukemia research alone in an effort to combat this deadly form of childhood cancer which takes the lives of more children than any other disease.

Mrs. Kimball explained that convention speakers revealed that the annual hospital bill for cancer costs the public $300,000,000. This is 20 times greater than the funds available to the American Cancer Society for research. She said many research requests are being turned down because of lack of funds.

She explained that "the crying need for an intensive program to educate every American in the need for prevention through periodic checkups and support of research was stressed throughout the meeting."

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The $255,362 bid of S. T. Kenyon & Co. of Portsmouth, Ohio, is apparently low among six received for construction of an Army Reserve center in that southern Ohio city, the U. S. Army Engineers have announced.

GIRL SCOUTS

To form a special kind of "tree" as a treat for the Marion County Home, 90 candy canes were used by Girl Scout Troop 100 at Waldo. The gift was presented on a trip to the home Thursday night when the 11 members of the troop and their leaders, Mrs. Richard Dutt and Mrs. Horace Wildon were accompanied by a like number of members of the other intermediate age troop of Waldo Troop 101, for which Mrs. Richard Dune and Mrs. Leon McCorkle are leaders.

In addition each troop took baskets of fruit for the residents of the home. Carols were sung. Plans for the event were made by Troop 101 when the girls entertained their mothers with a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Dutt. A gift exchange was held, year pins were received, presents made for the mothers were distributed and the leaders were remembered with gifts also. Refreshments were served by the girls.

BROWNIE SCOUTS

Brownie Troop 31 of George Washington School observed its first birthday with a party Thursday in the school gymnasium. Members formed a semi-circle in front of the flag to open the meeting and Diane Larson led the pledge to the flag, the promise and group singing of "Brownies Have a Birthday." Color guards were Debbie Wilson, Timola Wilson and Kathy Wyman.

Linda Reiff welcomed the mothers and guests and the program included a piano solo by Carol Cummins, tap dance by Diane Larson, clarinet duet by Karin Corrigan and Mary McMahan, modern ballet by Kathy Werbel, and baton-twirling by Timola Wilson.

The Brownie story was presented in pantomime with Mrs. Lou Cummins as narrator. Taking part were Mary Elkins, Bonnie Fletcher, Laura Lambroff, Becky Lane, Linda Laird, Patty Manley, Brenda Ulery, Judy Ruhl, Debbie Wilson and Kathy Wyman.

Mrs. Walter Corrigan, leader, presented each member her new membersip card and each was pinned by her mother after which each Brownie presented her mother a gift she had made in Brownie meeting.

Mrs. John Werbel was introduced as assistant leader and Mrs. Robert Ulery, Mrs. Billie Wilson and Mrs. Cummins as troop committee members.

Mrs. Grant Fletcher, Mrs. Ulery and Mrs. Wayne Wilson assisted with refreshments served from a buffet table centered with a large plaque giving the Brownie Scout promise. At either side was a Brownie doll, one holding the American flag and the other a troop banner. Lighted tapers completed the decorations which were in the Brownie colors of brown and yellow.

Members of Brownie Troops 31 and 75 joined to go Christmas caroling Wednesday after school and later they met at the home of Mrs. Mary McMahan, 847 Indiana Ave., for refreshments and a gift exchange. Mrs. Howard Barkley, Mrs. James Rissler, Mrs. Werbel and Mrs. Corrigan accompanied the girls.

Kremlin Can See the Evidence, Too!

While there still is time to understand what makes the government of the Soviet Union afraid of the resurgent power of West Germany, estimates of military strength in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization should be looked at objectively.

In the 12 years since the end of World War II, the German economy has come back far enough to make West Germany the third strongest NATO member — ranking after Britain and the United States.

In the not-too-distant future, West Germany may be expected to move ahead of Britain. France is out of the running as far as major power status is concerned. Its military strength has been sapped by the stalemate in Algeria.

No other power in Europe is potentially strong enough to head off the Germans, once they have had time to organize their amazing resources of ingenuity and thoroughness. This is precisely what the Kremlin is aware of in the contrast between West Germany and East Germany. It is what rankles the Communists about the use of Berlin — a hundred miles inside the Russian zone — as a showcase for West German progress.

To the extent that the Western Allies have contributed to the progress and even to the extent they have not discouraged it, the Kremlin can argue with sound logic that victory over Germany in World War II has been turned into a new military threat against Russia.

This seems preposterous to the United States — a mark of Russian obstructionism. And it may well be motivated by the intent to obstruct. But it seemed preposterous to the United States when Germany's neighbors looked at it apprehensively after World War I, while it was staging the recovery that enabled it to challenge the world in 1939.

The revelation that West Germany now is NATO's third power comes at an inopportune time. The Kremlin can see the evidence, too. It has argued that the Western Allies are hoping to use Germany against the Soviet Union. It has argued that the security of Europe depends on preventing a resurgence of Germany's ability to wage war.

The rebuttal to its argument is not likely to be convincing in the light of the evidence, that the Kremlin is at closer grips with reality than the Western Allies.

If Only for the Sake of Vicunas

The first time around, the story of the Italian tailor who wanted to give President Eisenhower a vicuna overcoat, along with some other haberdashery, was funny.

It would have been funny if a visiting ambassador of good will had tried to give Harry Truman a "deep freeze" at the low point of his administration's falling prestige.

But as time wears on, it isn't funny any more that the fair name of the vicuna must remain in bad odor because a hungry little band of political hatchetmen fell upon Sherman Adams and ripped his vicuna overcoat to shreds.

The vicuna does not vote in U.S. elections, or in any elections. He has no voice in public affairs. But he has certain inalienable and inviolable rights that are being kicked around by rabbity pussy-footers who are so hypersensitive to criticism they are being ridiculous.

If an Italian tailor wants to give the president of the United States a vicuna overcoat, let him carry out his mission? It isn't his fault that the time had come for a politician from New Hampshire to be discredited and banned from the White House — and that a vicuna overcoat figured in the job.

The whole incident has been silly enough as an event inside the family without dragging in the neighbors to show them the seamy side of U.S. politics, too. If only for the sake of vicunas wherever they are — let the Italian tailor give Eisenhower the overcoat and go home to Italy while he still has some illusions left about the land of liberty.

Last-Minute Appeal

The Give-a-Christmas clearinghouse and Salvation Army today are making a last-minute appeal for help in the hope that every single needy family can be supplied at least with proper food on Christmas Day.

This is the second successive year such a late request has been necessary, and the response in 1957 was so tremendous that every single case was handled.

Up to this point the assistance provided through the clearinghouse and Salvation Army has been good, but neither in numbers of contributors nor amount of money has it kept pace with last year's giving.

It would be a wonderful Christmas Eve present for the whole community if the clearinghouse and agencies once again could report that their mission has been 100 per cent accomplished.

40 Per Cent More Ice Cubes

The International Geophysical Year has dropped out of the news, though it more than came up to the high expectations of what could be learned if scientists and observers throughout the world pooled their knowledge.

In approximately 18 months they learned, for example, that the earth is covered with more ice and snow than previously had been estimated. Instead of 3,240,000 cubes of a mile in each dimension, there are 4,500,000 cubic miles of frozen matter.

They learned there is twice as much precipitation in the Arctic as there is in the Antarctic. They discovered that Antarctica is not a solid mass but a network of islands and mountain chains. They found three major ocean currents and vast mineral deposits in the Pacific Ocean.

In 1956, when IGY was still in the planning stage, a project to launch an artificial satellite was a special focus of interest. The United States had made it known in 1955 it was planning to go ahead with the idea, which had been in the exploratory stage since early postwar days.

Other nations said they were interested, too. The Soviet Union let it be known it had a special interest in the idea and would make a major project of it. Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan also showed interest.

But as it happened, the Soviet Union was first to carry out its project successfully, with results that proved deeply disturbing to international confidence and to the Geophysical Year, itself. What had been scheduled as one detail of the show turned into an obsession about rocket thrust.

In the long view, however, this may well be forgotten when future generations evaluate the first IGY. The hope of permanent sharing of knowledge about the earth no longer seems far-fetched. There is talk of a similar project in medical research.

In a quiet way among scientists there was more amicability during IGY than bickering politicians and sword-rattling militarists would have thought possible while exchanging recriminations and insults.

Real Achievement

The General Telephone Co. of Ohio and the Communications Workers of America are to be congratulated for their achievement in reaching agreement on a new one-year contract.

The significance of the accomplishment is not immediately apparent until it is examined in the light of the tremendous task faced by the negotiating teams.

This was the first contract study in which the former Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and the General Telephone Co. were completely merged, and many differences in working conditions had to be ironed out.

In view of the fact that the last negotiations with Ohio Consolidated resulted in a turbulent seven-month strike in the Portsmouth area, the peaceful agreement this time is a real tribute to the negotiators on both sides.

Since General Telephone Co. has its headquarters in Marion we are especially appreciative here of any favorable developments concerning it, although of course the agreement has statewide and even nationwide importance.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

On Christmas Eve, when the clatter of reindeer feet is heard on the roof, a lesser footstep is sometimes heard. Grownups may not hear it. But children do.

They know what it is, a ninth performer among the reindeer.

It is Tinkle. Tinkle has no horns and no hooves.

He looks as unlike a deer as it is possible to look. For Tinkle is a pooch. . . .The Pooch That Chased Saint Nicholas' Sleigh.

Many dogs have been aroused by the sound of the "coursers more rapid than eagles" on Christmas Eve and have thought it would be grand fun to give chase.

Many tried it but gave up. But Tinkle is the dog who did more than bark, run a short distance and quit.

He showed so much determination that the deer, at first annoyed, came to like his company. Saint Nicholas, too, after a thousand miles or so, said: "Well, well, here is a real dog! Here is a dog that wants to be a reindeer. It might be swell to have him along."

St. Nick made a few passes and Tinkle, who was about to give up through exhaustion, became possessed of the same magic strength the reindeer have, and the same speed. And lo, he scooted along forever after with no difficulty whatever.

The trouble was that he barked incessantly. This wouldn't do. It would ruin everything to have children aroused. So St. Nick made another pass and the bark became—what do you think?—a tinkle, yes, the musical tinkle of a lovely sleighbell which gave out a sound sweeter than nearly all other bells.

That is how, in fact, the dog whose name had originally been Scratch became Tinkle.

Now he dashes through the skies tinkling away merrily. The more excited he gets the more he tinkles, adding greatly to the wonderful music of Christmas.

Children are never quite sure whether it is all real or a dream, but they always hear Tinkle on Christmas Eve.

They can depend on it. For a dog loves children and is happiest when they are happy. And Tinkle is the happiest pooch on this earth or any other, and the envy of all dogs everywhere.

Big Brother on the Run?

Calm Reappraisal

By David Lawrence

Something of a belated realization that maybe America isn't so backward after all seems to have swept the world as a consequence of the Atlas satellite launched into orbit.

Lawrence

The aerial demonstration has scientific value, of course, and it is fascinating to listen to the words of the President flung back from outer space through miraculous inventions in the field of electronics. But it is a stunt, after all, and the significance from a military viewpoint is not immediately any greater than when the concept of an intercontinental ballistic missile itself first became a reality a few years ago.

The importance to the citizen is the effect that all these stunts have on the federal budget. It's important to keep focusing on military weapons rather than scientific achievements just for the sake of science.

When the Soviets launched their "Sputnik," a sort of hysteria developed. This correspondent, in October 1957, wrote:

"Judging by the hysterical outcries of various people, including some of the politicians, America should bow her head in shame, pull down the Flag and offer to surrender at once to the tyrants in the Kremlin.

"Or else, it is impulsively urged, the United States should begin spending billions upon billions no matter if it unbalances the budget, forces the purchasing power of the dollar down to 10 cents and brings on a financial and economic debacle.

"HOW AMAZING it is that, by the simple stunt of spinning an iron ball around the world, Americans in vast numbers can be led to lose their heads in an anguished clamor of the 'For-God's-sake-do-something' variety."

It was pointed out at the time that the Soviet people had not been emancipated from their tyrannical rulers and that jet bombers flying from Western bases within a few minutes of Soviet territory had not suddenly become useless.

As a matter of fact, while the "Sputnik" may have accelerated some scientific endeavors in outer space, the progress on intercontinental missiles was to some extent impeded by the new emphasis on the spectacular stunts which were designed to have propaganda value.

Back of all the technical debate about new scientific developments is a grim battle for the citizen's dollar. It takes a good deal of courage for the President to rearrange the main items of the military budget so that first things will come first.

It is difficult to answer publicly the protests of those persons with an ax to grind, who keep on crying out that America is behind and that the administration is neglecting this or that weapon. One reason is that public debate of this kind can only operate to the benefit of the potential enemy.

AMERICA IS moving ahead nonpolitically, non-partisanly and with the best brains of science and industry trying to give America the weapons needed with which to conduct a massive retaliation if this country or its allies should suddenly be attacked.

Even the clamor for diplomatic talks has been recognized by the administration, which has sent envoys again and again to confer with the Communist representatives at Geneva and other places, only to discover that the "talk" idea is just a Soviet maneuver intended to make it appear that the United States wants war and not peace.

The "Sputnik" episode has been a destructive rather than a constructive influence. It has initiated, for instance, some caustic criticism of our educational system.

It led to campaigns to get extra funds from Congress for purposes quite unrelated to the battle of the satellites in outer space. Also, the entire military budget of the United States has been subjected to criticism based on a supposed need for big amounts of money to participate in the "Sputnik" race.

Now that America has shown that her scientists can equal, if not surpass, the Soviet scientists, it is to be hoped that a sense of balance will be achieved and that needless expenditure of vast sums to get to the moon will not be made at a time when the problem of balancing a budget and saving the dollar from rapid deterioration is perhaps the biggest down-to-earth problem faced by this country in its economic history.

America has proved that she, too, can do stunts in outer space. Now it is hoped the skeptics and defeatists will be satisfied and the emphasis can turn to what it was prior to 1957 — namely, to the rapid development of intercontinental ballistic missiles, the most powerful deterrent of war yet conceived.

Mutual Distrust Costly

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Americans and Russians on the same day this week got a little notice in their Christmas stockings. It was an announcement by both their governments on how much they expect to spend next year.

There was the one lesson to be learned, above all others, from the announcements.

If the two countries could learn to trust each other and stop their fantastic armaments race — running into billions upon billions of dollars — people in both countries could live better because their taxes would go down and they'd have more money.

By a coincidence of history these things happened on the same day.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER said his budget for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1, would call for spending 77 billion dollars but that he expected to get in the same amount in taxes, thus balancing the budget.

Therefore, he said, there will be no call for a general tax increase.

In Moscow, with Premier Nikita Khrushchev nodding approval in the background, Finance Minister Arseny G. Zverev pledged to boost the government's spending for industry, scientific research and social welfare next year. And he added, there would be no direct new taxes.

WHEREAS Eisenhower spoke of spending 77 billions, the Soviets say they'll spend in rubles the equivalent of almost 177 billion dollars at the official rate of exchange. That looks like 100 billions more the Russian government is spending.

But the figures are misleading, and not only because the ruble is not considered here to be worth its official exchange value.

Eisenhower's total was for the federal government's expenses, and did not, of course, include the money being spent for all purposes by states, counties and city governments or by private enterprise on expansion or production not connected with the government.

The Russian figures include all the country's governmental units, from the smallest local districts up. Included are figures for the nation's industry, transport and trade, all run by the government.

Eisenhower's 77-billion figure for next year is about 3 billions less than the American government is expected to shovel out this year. He intends to trim expenses in a number of places to bring the spending down.

BY THE TIME Congress has voted the final dollar—which will be next summer — total spending for the fiscal year beginning next July may be over this year's 80 billions. The reason: arguments on what should and shouldn't be cut, and new expenses cropping up.

But one place Eisenhower said wouldn't be cut is the defense program. That's going up. Eisenhower said so. He didn't say how much up. But this year defense spending is hitting more than 40 billions out of the total of 80 billions to be spent.

The Soviets are far less frank about their defense spending.

ZVEREV BRUSHED over defense spending very fast except for noting that the budget for the armed forces would be about the same as this year, or around 24 billions, in fact, that would be just a little less than this year.

But what Zverev revealed is far from the whole picture. Other forms of military spending are hidden in other appropriations and cannot be estimated.

For example: Construction of defense plants is included in capital investment spending. Research on military projects comes under science and educational appropriations.

Zverev said the defense fund reflects a peace policy "but the Soviet union cannot disregard the fact that some aggressive countries are threatening peace and increasing tensions and the dangers of war."

To a statement like that the United States, of course, says look who's talking.

But in both countries the people would have a far richer life — since they would have more of their earnings left in their pockets — if both governments by some miracle could bury the hatchet, and not in each other's head.

Christmas Types

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Few things make people more human than Christmas.

And since it makes them human, it makes them different. The wonder of the season affects them in various ways.

HAL BOYLE

Here are a few standard types that can be found in every community—and one of them may be you:

The Grouch—He hates the whole idea of good will toward anybody, let alone everybody. On Christmas Eve he puts a bear trap in his fireplace, baits it with a calendar photo of Marilyn Monroe—in hopes that Santa Claus will reach for it and get a broken arm.

THE FAIR TRADER—She sends out exactly 287 Christmas cards herself, and worries if she doesn't get exactly 287 in return.

The Hard Luck Artist—Never in his whole life has he received a Christmas present he really could use. The necktie is always the wrong color, the shirt the wrong size, the cufflinks are superfluous since he never wears them. But he enjoys his misery, and if anybody ever did send him something that fit him it would ruin his Christmas.

The Cecil B. DeMille Producer—He starts decorating the outside of his home the day after Thanksgiving, and spends enough money on it to make another "Ten Commandments." Early in February he goes into bankruptcy, moves away and leaves the papier-mache reindeer and sled to rot quietly atop his empty home.

The Chronic Caroler — This guy knows al the words, but not the tunes, of every Christmas song ever written, sings them incessantly at his desk, on the bus, in the supermarket, and over the telephone if you should ring a wrong number and get him.

THE IMPASSIONED Imbiber—Christmas always makes him gay. He is lit before the first tree, and is still glowing when the last wreath is packed away. He has few Christmas memories—as he can't remember anything.

The Human Willow Tree—Christmas always makes him sad. He weeps in everybody's else's wassail bowl. He cries over his lost youth, your lost youth, anybody's lost youth. Everything that ever happened to him happened on Christmas. He had his tonsils out on Christmas; his car was stolen on another Christmas.

The Creep of Christmas Past—He yearns for the old-fashioned Christmas of long ago, when people were simpler and loved simple things—just an orange in a Christmas stocking was enough to bring joy. But if you send him just an orange for Christmas he'd sulk until Easter.

THE SOLITARY REAPER—He wraps up a dozen two-bit can openers in fancy packages, then tours the homes of all his friends on Christmas day. He can't lose. He is sure to get a drink at each home—and probably a present.

The Ordinary Guy—He spent a little more than he could afford, he got about what he expected out of Christmas—a good time and a warmer feeling toward people.

On Dec. 26 he wouldn't give a dime for another Christmas — and wouldn't take a million dollars for the one he just had.

(The Associated Press)

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Preparations for President Wilson's Christmas visit to Gen. Pershing's headquarters and the review of American troops was in full swing. More than 10,000 troops were readying for the review and the mayor of Chaumont ordered the town decorated with the Stars and Stripes.

Gen. Groener, who succeeded Ludendorff as first quartermaster general of the German army sent an ultimatum to the Elbert government that he would occupy Berlin unless order was quickly restored.

20 YEARS AGO — Diplomatic circles in Washington openly speculated on possibilities of a complete rupture of German-American relations.

Harry L. Hopkins was named by President Roosevelt to succeed Daniel C. Roper as secretary of commerce. Col. F. C. Harrington succeeded Hopkins as works progress administrator.

10 YEARS AGO — Hideki Tojo and three of his six war-maker companions gave lusty "banzai" shouts before they were hanged in Sugamo prison. The cry means "ten thousand years," a rather meaningless phrase to some but to the Japanese leader it was a last attempt at defiance.

The government sought to learn if Dutch attacks on the new Indonesian Republic justified cutting off recovery aid to Holland itself.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: In 1948 I married a man I loved deeply. He had four children. He divorced his neurotic wife in the face of plenty of criticism and family pressures so we could be married.

He gave up his religion, which was additional proof that he loved me a great deal. After the divorce his wife withdrew from social life and became a recluse. (You know, the nut type.)

Four years ago my beloved husband passed away. I kept an eye open at his funeral for his nutty ex-wife but so far as I know she did not attend.

Every year on the anniversary of his death I go to the cemetery to put flowers on his grave I always find a large wreath, obviously placed there the night before by an unknown person.

I'm certain it's his ex-wife who puts the wreath on his grave and that she's doing it to humiliate me Shall I write her a letter and order her to stop this practice? The man is MY legal husband and she has no rights whatever. — LEGITIMATE WIDOW.

Don't write the letter. This woman interferes in no way with you when she places a wreath on the grave of her former husband. He was the father of her four children. You don't toss such things aside with the signing of a divorce decree.

Interesting that you interpret this quiet gesture of devotion as an attempt to "humiliate" you. Since you seem bent on labeling HER a nut, may I point out that people who imagine themselves persecuted could be paranoid? (Look it up.)

Short, Short Story

Dear Ann Landers: I am 80 years old and have no brothers or sisters. My rich aunt died and left me a million dollars. I am not handsome and I don't go in much for sports.

The lady who lives next door is 25 years old. She has been very nice to me lately and I wonder if she could be interested in my money. Please put your answer in the paper.—SMOKEY JOE.

Dear Smokey Joe: Your handwriting is very good for a man 80 years old, but your spelling is terrible. I was fascinated to learn that an "ant" had left a million dollars.

Since this is an advice column, may I give you some? Before you go in for short story writing on a large scale, I suggest you bone up on spelling and punctuation.

Unloved Son

Dear Ann: I'm desperate and ready to throw in the sponge I have three daughters and one son. The girls are helpful and considerate. The boy is a problem. He's sassy, disobedient and always in trouble.

When he was 8 he was picked up by the police for stealing candy bars At 14 he was brought home by a storekeeper for taking money out of the cash drawer. He denies he's guilty in the face of overwhelming evidence and calls everyone a liar.

Yesterday the boy took a dollar bill from my purse. I know he took it because I had just put the dollar in the purse and left the room for a minute. The boy was in the room when I returned I asked if he'd seen the dollar and he said no.

I told him it was my last dollar and I needed it badly. Then I left the room briefly. When I returned he handed me the dollar and said he'd found it on the floor

My husband claims if the boy thinks I don't trust him he'll continue to do wrong. He also says the child has told him repeatedly that I don't love him. I am beaten. Please help me find an answer.—D.M.

Dear D.M.: The boy's stealing is a symptom of a deeper problem. Experts in the field of child behavior tell us that children who steal feel unloved and are seeking satisfaction and compensation.

The manner in which you compared your daughters with the son suggests that he has competed unsuccessfully for your affection. You favor the girls and he feels left out.

Consult an expert on children's problems. This should have been done years ago but perhaps it's not too late to give the boy a feeling of security and worth.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Rev. John Searle Narrates Yule Story for Marion Lions

The significance of Christmas was presented in monologue by the Rev. John Searle, pastor of First EUB Church, when the Marion Lions Club held its annual Christmas luncheon program Monday noon at Hotel Harding

Speaking from the standpoint of an inn keeper in Bethlehem who had witnessed the splendor of Christ's birth, the Rev. Mr. Searle narrated the story as though he were telling it to Luke the Physician, a visitor in his household.

Tells of Mysterious Joy

He recounted the wonder of the birth in a lowly stable and the sense of unexplainable joy that hovered over the city of Bethlehem that night as shepherds came from afar to proclaim the glad tidings of the birth of this child.

Now a merchant in the city of Jericho, the former inn keeper realized at the end of his tale that Luke knew the sequel to the birth of that humble child 30 years before. For Luke knew Jesus as the son of God

The speaker was introduced by the Rev Stewart Labat, program chairman

A highlight of the program was the presentation of the United Press International trophy to Harding High School for having achieved first place in the state during the wire service's high school football poll this fall.

Received by Larson

Gordon Larson, Harding football coach, received the trophy on behalf of the school. It was presented by Haskell Short, manager of the Columbus bureau of UPI.

It was announced that the Lions testimonial dinner will be held Jan 13 Tickets for the event were distributed to members. The district bowling tourney was scheduled for the Plaza Bowling Center Feb. 15

Guest Lions were Roger Busler of Elyria and Don Preuninger of Mansfield, a former member of the local club

Other guests were Paul O'Rourke; Miss Lynne Ranck of Claridon; Dan Yinger, Harding student; Randal Gallatin of the U.S. Army; Bill Gallatin of the US Marines, and Henry Rinnert of the U.S. Naval Academy; George Howser; Lewis Ashworth, and Ed Paulin.

Murder Case 'Confession' Is Branded Hoax

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Albert Patterson murder case was closed again Monday when Alabama abandoned as a hoax the confession of a Virginia convict.

Atty. Gen. John Patterson issued the following statement about the new angle to his father's slaying in Phenix City in 1954:

"I have had investigated the statement of Calvin W. Pruitt in which he claims to have killed my father. It has been established that his story is untrue and a hoax.

"I say once more that we have one of my father's murders, Albert Fuller, serving a life sentence in Kilby Prison."

The attorney general's statement came a week after he sent two assistants to Virginia to investigate the signed confession of Pruitt, 28, who is serving sentences totaling 170 years for murder, robbery and burglary.

Pruitt, whose wife and two children live in Haleyville, Ala., claimed he killed Albert Patterson in a robbery attempt while a debt-ridden soldier stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Patterson's murder sparked the Phenix City vice cleanup he had pledged shortly before in winning the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

John Patterson took office in his father's place. He was elected governor this fall and will take office Jan. 19.

Albert Fuller, former Russell County deputy sheriff and one of three indicted in the slaying, was convicted and sentenced to a life term. Former Circuit Solicitor Arch Ferrell was acquitted. Ex-Atty. Gen. Si Garrett never stood trial.

Stalemate Dims Hopes for Pre-Christmas End to Air Strike

2 Big Lines Still Tied Up; No Talks Set

National Mediation Service Bidding for Resumption of Talks

By The Associated Press

A pre-Christmas settlement of paralyzing strikes against American and Eastern Airlines appeared beyond reach today — normally one of the busiest days of the year for the grounded lines.

Efforts of National Mediation Board officials in Washington Monday brought no immediate plans for a resumption of contract negotiations between American and the striking Air Line Pilots Assn.

Sends Telegrams

The board reportedly sent telegrams to both sides suggesting new bargaining procedures. Mediation Board Chairman Leverett Edwards said talks might begin again in a few days.

There was no development in the stalemate between Eastern and its mechanics and flight engineers.

An Eastern spokesman said today's booking for canceled flights had numbered about 31,000—highest in the line's history.

American estimated it would have carried about 30,000 passengers today and Wednesday.

Loss Set at Million Daily

American estimated its daily loss at a million dollars since the pilots walked out last Friday midnight. Eastern has been grounded since Nov. 24.

Nonstruck airlines, buses and railroads expanded facilities to fill the gap in the crush of holiday traffic.

Eastern has laid off most of its 16,000 employes. American plans to put its 20,000 employes on emergency leave without pay after Jan. 4 if the strike continues.

The two strikes have grounded almost 400 planes, about a third of the commercial U.S. airliners.

The strikes were taking a heavy toll on Florida's winter tourist trade. Business losses in Miami alone were estimated at six million dollars a week. Eastern had been expected to carry about 175,000 passengers into Miami over the holidays.

Wages and the requirements of the jet age lay at the heart of the strikes.

At American, pilots said their current wage range of $400 to $1,602 a month is below that of other lines. Their new wage demands have not been made public.

The company claims its pilots already receive top pay. The company has offered a new ceiling of $2,334, but says the pilots also want a 10-hour reduction in the 85-hour work month when on jet runs.

The flight engineers at Eastern oppose the company's adoption of a presidential board's recommendation that they be required to have pilot training.

The machinists struck partly in support of the engineers and also for more money, changes in working hours and other contract provisions.

(Jack) Bush of Portsmouth, former purchasing agent in the Lausche administration, was named state commerce director. Mayor Grant Keys of Elyria was named state highway safety director. Robert Terhune of Washington C.H. was named state agriculture director. they want to belong. In all probability, it will be accomplished by petition, with individuals in the respective areas handling the circulation.

When these preferences are made known, the county board will order that a ballot be drawn up for the general election in 1959.

The voting will be on one specific plan, with a majority in each of the three areas required to carry the issue. For example: If petitions reveal that 90 per cent of the Woods addition residents want to belong to the Marion City school district, and that 80 per cent of the Sawyer Sanatorium people and 55 per cent of those in the area along Rt. 30-S want to belong to the Green Camp and Ridgedale districts, respectively, the ballot will so state those preferences.

Then, the electorate in the three areas involved, will vote on that precise proposal, with majorities in each area required to carry the entire plan. In essence, each area will be voting to reaffirm preferences as stated in petitions circulated prior to the board's ordering the measure for the ballot.

THE THREE AREAS in question are described as follows:

That territory referred to as the Woods section is bounded on the west by Kensington Rd., on the north by Indiana Ave., on the east by a line running north and south along the eastern edge of the Marion Plaza shopping center and on the south by the southern boundary line of the Gilmore subdivision Youngsters in this area now attend both Claridon and Marion city schools, the county superintendent said.

The Sawyer Sanatorium land parcel is bounded on the northwest by State Rt. 739, on the southeast by the C. & O. Railroad tracks and on the south by Barks Rd. This area is taken up, for the most part, with sanatorium grounds but there are a few children in that territory attending schools in Marion and Green Camp.

The section along U.S. Rt. 30-S just west of the city is bounded on the west by County Rd. 95. The boundary follows a stair - step course along the northeast side of Rt. 30-S. The district abuts against the Erie Railroad yards on the south. Route 30-S cuts across the area on a diagonal running northwest to southeast. Virtually all children in this area are presently attending Marion city schools, according to Mr. Mills.

Mr. Mills, Ralph Williams, board president, and H. Clay Smith, reported that they met with Mr. Knepper Saturday in Columbus, at which time the resolution to rescind the original transfers was drawn up.

MR MILLS SAID that in Mr. Knepper's opinion, the county board should take no hand whatever in the circulating of preference petitions in any of the three areas.

Mr. Williams pointed out that a law passed in 1957 and effective Jan. 1 of this year makes mandatory an election to determine land transfers for the purpose of establishing school district boundaries. At the time of the original transfers, no such law existed and boards took action at their own discretion.

The board president noted that when it had acted in 1954, it had done so in an effort to equalize school populations and make contiguous the boundaries of the Green Camp and Meeker districts. Litigation started, however, when residents in the Marion local district contended the board's move was made to manipulate tax valuations.

Present at the special meeting, besides Mr. Mills, Mr. Williams and Mr. Smith, were Edwin Carey, board vice president, John H. Mills and C. J. Roberts.

These workers have labor contracts providing for semiannual wage adjustments based on the government index.

Another group of 80,000 workers in scattered industries, including some municipal transportation systems, will receive varying increases under a quarterly adjustment.

The Labor Department said that in November new cars being sold to the public averaged 6.4 per cent higher than in October. This rise reflected October discounts on the sale of 1958 models and the November sale of 1959 models.

New Cars Higher

New cars are selling at 4.2 per cent higher prices now than new cars sold in November 1957.

Clague said the new living cost rise was not much to worry over. He said the government index has actually been stable during the past six to eight months, without rising or falling much in any single month.

The government price expert also said the present price situation is not one to bother people from a standpoint of inflationary danger. But, he said it is something to watch.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein today watched a two-hour military demonstration described officially as "the Jordanian army preparing for Victory Day." Robert H. Terhune, 50, Washington Court House, as agriculture director.

Elyria mayor Grant Keys previously was named highway safety director.

Maloon, the new finance director, is a native of Union City in Darke County. Married and the father of three, he served on the economic research staff at Indiana University and headed the Department of Economics of Northeast Missouri State College, Kirksville, Mo., before returning to Ohio in 1954.

After leaving the job of state purchasing agent, Bush, the new director of commerce, formed a business and tax consultant firm in Columbus. He is also president of an accounting tax firm in his home city of Portsmouth. A widower, he has two children.

Preston, like Bush a native of Portsmouth, worked for the Highway Department from 1935 until early last year, when he left to form his own company. The new highway director is credited with developing an aerial photography process which can cut time for highway planning and design by more than half.

Terhune, father of three and a former heavyweight boxing champ at Ohio State University, is from Washington Court House, while Keys, an ex-military flier and father of nine, has lived most of his life in Elyria.

Goldfine, Secretary To Appeal Jail Terms

BOSTON (AP) — Textile tycoon Bernard Goldfine and his secretary indicate they plan to appeal the jail terms imposed on them for contempt of court in failing to furnish company records to tax agents.

Goldfine, 67, a close friend of former White House aide Sherman Adams, was sentenced Monday to three months in prison for failing to produce the full records of his Lebanon Mills, Lebanon, N.H.

Miss Mildred Paperman, 43, his blonde secretary, was sentenced to 10 days in jail for failure to give tax agents some of the records of Goldfine's Northfield, Vt., mill and Strathmore Woolen Co. of Boston.

Library To Be Closed

The Marion Carnegie Public Library will be closed on Christmas and on New Year's Day. Special hours will be observed on the day before each holiday, Miss Janet Berg, librarian, reported today.

The building will close Wednesday noon and at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 31.

Regular hours will be observed the day after each holiday, Miss Berg noted.

Fresh Parley In Newspaper Strike Sought

Federal Conciliator Sets Up New Talks In New York Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators were exploring new approaches to ending a 14-day-old newspaper strike as they prepared today for another round of joint talks with federal mediators.

Publishers of the nine closed dailies and the striking deliverymen resumed joint sessions Monday after a five-day break.

Federal mediator Walter A. Maggiolo said both parties had promised to give serious study to a number of suggestions aimed at "establishing possible areas of agreement."

No Break Indicated

Neither side indicated any break in the deadlock.

In fact, Asher Schwartz, attorney for the independent Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union, indicated a possible stiffening in the strikers' demands on a go-it-alone basis.

Noting that nine other newspaper unions, all members of the AFL-CIO have refused to support the Deliverers Union, Schwartz said:

"They (the publishers) have been calculating their cost of meeting our proposals on the basis of the over-all cost of granting the same or equivalent benefits to the other unions which are involved in other negotiations with the publishers.

Sees No Obligation

"Now it would seem to us that the publishers are free of this demand. The other unions have rejected us and our efforts to win more than a $7 package. Whatever the publishers agree to add at the request of the Deliverers Union, they no longer can say they have to give it to the other unions."

The $7 increase offer, spread over two years, is similar to one already accepted by the New York Newspaper Guild. The offer has been turned down by the deliverers membership.

The delivery men are seeking a reduction in hours, an extra holiday and a replacement clause covering absenteeism. Their basic pay under a contract which expired Dec. 7 was $103.82 a week.

The nine struck newspapers are the New York Times, Herald Tribune, Daily News, Mirror, World Telegram and Sun, Journal American, Post, Long Island Daily Press and Long Island Star-Journal.

medical corpsmen home on leave pitched in and helped with the injured.

The operation was so speedily mobilized and carried out that within two hours the hospital was cleared except for the seriously injured who were bedfast.

One disaster worker said ambulances from "every town in the area that had ambulances must have sent all they had."

Phillip Thompson, a volunteer fireman, said "There was a terrific explosion. The blast knocked me out but I came to right away. There was a terrible roar and the whole sky seemed to be on fire."

"Pieces of steel from the exploding tank ripped through the crowd," Thompson said. "Flames from the burning transport set a number of people on fire. I put out the fire on several people. I had to rip some of their clothes off to put out the flames."

A service station near the scene was set afire, but was quickly extinguished.

Thompson said debris from the exploding truck was hurled 250 to 300 yards away.

Shakes Town of 7,000

The blast shook the town of about 7,000. Windows were broken a mile away. Flames leaped an estimated 400 to 500 feet into the air.

The Terry County Hospital said it had admitted 63 victims of which a dozen were seriously burned or injured. About 115 or 120 persons were injured, the hospital estimated. Some of the victims were driven to nearby Lubbock, Tex., for treatment.

Charlie Maples, Brownfield newsman, said that in addition to the three dead, a torso was found near the blast scene. The hospital said only three were killed, however.

Sidney Hester, police dispatcher, said four men were confirmed dead. He identified them as Ruben Johnson, about 50, of Lubbock, driver of the big truck; Jim Cousineau, fire marshal here; Wayland Parker, Brownfield fireman, and James Ray, of Brownfield.

Children Overcome Handicap

Christmas Spirit Runs High at School for Deaf

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Imagine singing "Jingle Bells" or "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" with your hands.

Or, lock yourself for a moment in a world where there are none of the friendly Christmas noises—no street carolers, no belly laugh of a Santa Claus, no clamor of shoppers and traffic.

For the 340 youngsters here at the American School for the Deaf and for the thousands of other deaf across the country, Christmas is silent — just as all other days and nights.

But in the deep silence there is happiness, too.

A Christmas party for the American School's youngsters is a warm demonstration of how the human spirit can overcome a handicap.

The scene is a familiar Christmas school tableau. Scrubbed and smiling youngsters squirm in their seats in the large auditorium, fidgeting for the start of their annual Christmas program.

But when the school chaplain begins the invocation, the difference becomes apparent.

The clergyman tells a Christmas parable in a rich, friendly voice. He accompanies his words with rapid gestures of his arms and hands.

The story is of a mischievous, young angel whose pranks jar the conservative ways of heaven. St. Peter scolds his young charge — with silent gestures.

In the final scene, a chorus of angels assembles — costumed in white sheets, cardboard wings and wire halos.

A Christmas carol filters over the loudspeaker system, and the angels begin singing — with their hands.

To the observer, the scene looks pathetic momentarily. An age-old Christmas song, and the only way these deaf angels can evoke the beautiful melody and lyric is with their hands.

But the flash of pity is dispelled quickly. The gestures by the angels on stage have reached the youngsters. Singing with their hands, the deaf children, too, are experiencing the joys of caroling.

sewer projects for which bids will be opened in January.

In answer to questions by Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th) and Thomas Fetter (D-at large), the mayor said that the city engineer job is a full-time position and that he feels Mr. Klingler "has done a very good job filling both posts" the last few weeks.

The vote on Mr. Smith's motion to amend the ordinance to eliminate the post of sanitary engineer was 8-1 with Mr. Osterholt voting against it.

There followed a vote on a motion to suspend the rules requiring a second and third reading and it was defeated 8-1 with John Robbins (D-1st), John Williams (D-2nd)), Lowell Doyle (R-3rd), Mrs. Jacob, Mr. Osterholt, Mr. Smith and Richard Lister (R-at large) voting against adoption.

Asks Reconsideration

Mr. Smith said that he voted against suspension only so that he could ask for reconsideration and meanwhile report for council's consideration that he had talked to Mr. Klingler and knew that he was willing to take the position of city engineer under the new salary.

There followed a second vote on suspension of the rules and it again lost 5-4 with these councilmen against it: Mr. Robbins, Mr. Williams, Mr. Doyle, Mr. Osterholt and Mr. Lister.

The ordinance, which now will be given a second reading at council's Jan. 12 meeting, proposes to set the salary of the city engineer at $7,800 a year. It presently is $6,500. The sanitary engineer now is paid $7,800 a year.

In addition to the changes in the engineering department, the ordinance also proposes to raise the salary of the City Hall janitor's post from the present $280 a month to $310 a month and to increase the wage rate of the assistant janitor from the present $1.07 an hour to $1.47 an hour.

Other Business

In other business last night, council:

Heard a report from Mayor Strong that his studies on city needs and on a proposed city income tax are nearly completed and that he expects to report his findings to council sometime in January.

Heard a letter read from Midtown Chevrolet Co. thanking the city for an order for three 1959 models for use as police cruisers and noting the cars are scheduled for delivery to the city about Dec. 27. The letter also extended a 25 per cent discount to the city for any parts that may be needed in repair of the new cruisers and promised the city the best service with greatest economy.

Heard a report from Mr. Smith that a finance committee meeting will be held Monday night at 7:15 p.m. in the city auditor's office.

Heard a letter read by Mrs. Jacob from L. Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co., inviting the councilmen and the public to a public inspection and tour of the company's new filtration facilities and other improved facilities at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 4.

Heard a report from Mrs. Jacob that the utilities committee has accepted a plan of the Ohio Edison Co. for improved lighting on Delaware Ave. in the vicinity of Washington St. but does not plan to bring in legislation authorizing it until the one-way street program is settled. She said legislation for two new street lights on Underwood Ave. will be presented at the Jan. 12 meeting.

Heard a report by Mr. Lister that a meeting of the sewer committee will be necessary before the next council meeting. He said the county engineer and county commisioners will also be invited to attend. Purpose of the meeting will be to determine if any problems remain on sewers in County Sewer District 1.

Heard a report by Mayor Strong that the city engineers are not now doing any preliminary work on the proposed one-way street program and that they have not been authorized to do so. This was in answer to a question by Mr. Osterholt. Mr. Lister said that he had made a suggestion at a previous council meeting that the engineers start their preliminary work on the plans.

All members of council were present for the meeting as was the council president, Fred Baldauf. Filling in for the vacationing council clerk, Mrs. Alta Sheehe, was Robert Wooley, deputy city auditor. Other city officials on hand in addition to the mayor were: Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis, Auditor Elmer Shaw, Police Chief Justin Cornely and Charles Honaker, street superintendent.

Salvation Army headquarters, she said.

A heartening response to the request for visits and small remembrances for shut-ins has made it possible to scratch names of all these persons off the clearinghouse list, Mrs. Williams explained.

Fifty-seven of the 135 cases under Aid for the Aged were taken by individuals and the remaining 78 will receive sunshine baskets from the Army, she said.

But as the holiday draws closer, still more cases are being added. On Monday alone 32 new cases reached the file, bringing the total handled through the clearinghouse this year to 346.

Mrs. Williams pointed out that this figure includes the 230 cases which have been cared for.

An example of a deserving family still on the list, waiting hopefully and prayerfully for someone to share the joys of Christmas, is the H. family.

Mr. H. was injured while working. His compensation payments will run out in January, but he will be unable to return to his job.

Eight hungry children look to this father who feels defeated in heart and spirit. They all need clothing, including dresses, shirts and trousers in varying sizes.

Other desperately needed items on the Christmas list which they hope will not be ignored are blankets, a washing machine and dishes from which to eat the meager daily meal set before them.

None of the items need be new. Any gift will be gratefully acknowledged and put to good use, not only in this case, but any of the others remaining on file, Mrs. Williams stressed.

It is not yet too late to share the meaning of Christmas with some deserving family.

To select the case you wish to help, telephone the clearinghouse. Your Christmas will be a more peaceful one because you have done your part in giving.

Motor Vehicle Bureau To Close for Weekend

Mrs. Ila Hall, deputy registrar of the automobile license bureau at 129 S. State St., announced today that the office will be closed for the Christmas holiday from noon Wednesday until monday morning. All city and county offices will be closed Thursday through Sunday to enable employes to enjoy a long weekend.

Directed Verdict For Defendant Is Ordered in Action

A directed verdict for the Whirlpool Corp. was returned by a Common Pleas jury Monday afternoon upon completion of testimony in a $50,000 damage suit against the firm.

Judge Paul D. Smith ordered a finding for the defendant firm shortly before 4 p.m. after counsel for Jesse Little Jr. of 822 Kenton Ave., the plaintiff, rested his case.

Mr. Little sought compensation for head injuries he allegedly suffered at a gate on the east side of the plant May 26, 1957. He alleged he struck his head on a steel beam which had been placed across the top of the gate and charged Whirlpool with negligence.

Judge Smith ruled there was evidence of contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff and that the Whirlpool Corp. was not responsible for the gate since it was constructed by the Austin Co. of Cleveland with which the plaintiff was employed at the time.

H. G. Holland of Mansfield, attorney for the plaintiff, called eight witnesses, including Dr. Daniel Murphy, who testified about the nature of the plaintiff's injury, and three other employes who had suffered similar injuries at the gate.

The defense, represented by the Moore, Myers and Parsell law firm, rested its case without calling a witness.

Attorneys for the firm had argued that Mr. Little had used the gate five times prior to the accident and thus was aware of any existing hazards.

Jurors were Emma Gruber, Raymond White, Joan Pryor, Harvey Fout, Lawrence Clark, Carl Castle, Walter Himler, Wray D. Beaver, Myrtle Smith, Don D. Ruth, Rosa Tilton and Earl Martin. Alternate juror was Harley D. Watts.

plan for a balanced budget "but I am quite dubious about it. I don't see how he is going to get the extra revenue."

Sen. A. S. (Mike) Monroney (D-Okla.) said the announcement seemed to him to include "more wishful thinking than any realistic approach" to budgetary problems.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), assistant Senate Democratic leader, commented that "I can't see a gas tax increase" as being in the cards and said Eisenhower will have trouble, too, in getting Congress to vote another increase in postal rates.

Rush Out Statements

Republican leaders rushed out statements welcoming Eisenhower's budget-balancing plans, but said nothing about spending cuts or higher taxes.

"It is refreshing to realize that the budget is in balance, and it is up to Congress to keep it that way," said Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass), House Republican leader. "The economy must be maintained on a sound financial basis to protect the future stability of our country."

Similar emphasis on financial stability came from Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee, and Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn.

Police Reports

Two break-ins of residences were reported Monday.

Police said evidence was that entrance was gained through a second floor window and that the window had been reached by climbing up a downspout or a TV antenna pole.

Sherman France of 542 Thompson St. reported his residence had been entered. Police said entrance was gained by forcing open a rear door. Mr. France said a motor scooter frame he was keeping for another person had been taken from the property and added that a steel table of small value had been taken from his property some time ago.

Born as a French fur-trading center in 1764, St. Louis became the crossroad of America's westward expansion. Today it ranks as the queen island port on the Mississippi.

Installs Sprinkler Systems

Tiny Union Tackles Job Of Fireproofing Nation

By VICTOR RIESEL

Hell hath no fire like that which leaves women and children burned. Yet tears wash away no folly, for the records show that each year searing flames gut some 4,500 schools and colleges. I came upon such grim figures when, after the Chicago holocaust, this column searched for the cause and cost and scope of industrial fires.

VICTOR RIESEL

Such conflagrations have buzz-sawed through an average of 13 schools a day for the past seven years—a total of more than 30,000 buildings to which children come to learn and sometimes stay to burn. Youngsters are not fireproof. Neither are their buildings.

One source, whose sadness cost it nothing of its authoritativeness, reported in a survey that in 60 schools not protected by ordinary sprinkler systems, fire took the lives of 827 pupils and teachers in the past 60 years.

Yet in some 70 schools protected by fitted overhead sprinklers systems fires did little more than scorch the furnishings. No lives were lost. The flames, instead, were snuffed out, drowned by the protective gush of water from overhead.

THE RECENT bitter Chicago grimness brings to mind a far less macabre fire in Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., in 1957. There in the second floor corridor of Fenwick Hall, some students were smoking, even as some youngsters may have been smoking in the unfortunate Chicago school.

In Fenwick Hall a cigarette was dropped in a basket of clothing. Sprinklers poured it on. The flames were out and the students back in when the fire fighters arrived in the building.

But schools were just a small part of the tinder which went up in '57. Last year over a billion dollars worth of properly burned. Hardest hit were industrial plants.

Yet just the installation of one sprinkler head would have put out 43 per cent of the flames. And five sprinklers would have doused 85 per cent of the plant-gutting fires.

These sprinkler systems are things of science. So sensitive are they that in some ammunition plants where temperatures must not vary more than a degree, lest a flash fire be unleashed, the light of a struck match uncorks the floods of quenching waters.

-:-

THIS LITERALLY life-giving science is practiced by a union I had never before encountered, the United Automatic Sprinkler Fitters an M dApp en ricest and Apprentices Local Union No. 669. It operates out of the national Plumbers Assn. headquarters.

It has no offices of its own—for its jurisdiction is national, including Hawaii and Alaska, too.

Its 3,300 members are always on the road. They go where the job is—one day at a Midwest atomic power plant and a month later at a naval installation on the Alaskan coast.

They are the real old-fashioned journeymen. And they exlude no able-bodied man, with the education, the skill and the will to want to learn the trade.

They run a unique apprentice system. Because their people and prospective members live across the land—going from job to job on assignment from Washington—the union gives its apprentice course by correspondence. This is prepared by specialists at Pennsylvania State University.

At the moment some 600 men are taking such training. A special union office in Room 408, in the Machinists Building, Washington, D.C., will take new applications.

On the management side of this obscure industry is the National Automatic Sprinkler and Fire Control Assn.

IN THE SEASON OF the year when there is little good will on the industrial front, it is a pleasure to report that both sides speak well of each other in this field—on which depend the bodies and souls of old and young.

It is an industry now faced by a worried public, a disturbed teaching profession and harassed fire chiefs and city officials everywhere who see themselves in crisis.

The Chicago fire has fanned a stampede for sprinkler systems. For not only have bodies burned but the economic life of whole communities has been destroyed by fire.

On Sept. 6, 1957, flames razed a shoe company in Georgetown, Ohio—a one-factory town. Some 209 of the community's 2200 citizens were jobless. The economy of a town was gone, in one burst of flames in an unsprinkled plant.

So the story of the season is in the words of the leader of the contractors in this field. Raymond J. Casey told me, "I'm sure that our industry and our labor organization will come up with all the manpower and engineering needed to meet this crisis."

In the Service

Pvt. James W. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howell of 249 Uncapher Ave., recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Ft. Benning, Ga., the Army reported.

Appeals Conviction

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Charles Allen Walker, convicted in one of Louisville's biggest bank holdups, filed notice of appeal Monday in federal court here.

Walker, 30, of Canton, Ohio, was turned down in his bid for a new trial here by U. S. district Judge Henry L. Brooks. The case now goes to the Court of Appeals in Cincinnati.

Walker was sentenced by Brooks a few days ago to 20 years in prison on the $109,953 robbery last December at a Citizens Fidelity Bank and Trust Co. branch office.

Judge Orders $500,000 Suit To Be Retried

CLEVELAND (AP)—Citing improper conduct by a defense attorney and a juryman, U.S. District Judge James C. Connell has ordered a new trial in the $500,000 damage suit of a man who lost both hands in an industrial accident.

Earlier this month a jury denied Henry J. DeGonia, 45, of Granite City, Ill., damages against the Federal Machine & Welder Co. of Warren, Ohio. DeGonia, father of seven children was employed by the A. O. Smith Co. of Granite City when he lost both hands in a stamping machine which was manufactured by the Warren company.

Judge Connell said Crawford Morris, an attorney for Federal Machine and Welder, "figured out a way of misconduct that would not go into the record." The judge said Morris stood at the end of the jury box and by facial expressions conveyed to jurors his reactions to the plaintiff's case.

"The record does not show counsel's histrionics," Judge Connell said.

A juror acted improperly, the court held, in exhibiting to fellow jurors a homemade device intended to demonstrate that the manufacturer was not responsible for the accident.

The court had dismissed the Smith Co. as a defendant, although the Warren firm had contended the Granite City firm was equally responsible for the accident because of failure to provide for proper maintenance.

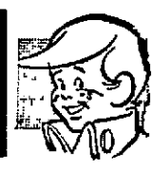
Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE



It is Christmas Eve, only moments until the professor will release the gas which will kill all fairies. Arriving at the Castle on the Hill with Santa Claus, Esteban rushes to the room of the professor's spell-bound wife. He sprinkles the dust given him by the Hangdog Hag on the eyes of the beautiful woman and she awakes.

Chapter 17

A MERRY CHRISTMAS

The beautiful woman gazed at Esteban and repeated her question. "Where is my husband? Where is my own darling child?"

Instead of answering, Esteban ran to the door. His heart pounded and his hands grew cold. Was it too late after all? Had the professor already let loose the powerful gas?

Suddenly he heard far-away footsteps rushing through the corridors below.

"They are coming!" he cried.

"My dear," said the woman curiously. "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

"I am Esteban," he said. "You were put under a spell by the Hangdog Hag. The professor wishes to destroy all of Fairyland in order to destroy the Hag."

"All of Fairyland! How terrible! I shall not let him do it!"

—:—

AT THAT moment Charlotte and the professor came into the room. The little girl took one look and threw herself into her mother's arms. The professor, his lips trembling, moved slowly forward hardly daring to believe what he saw.

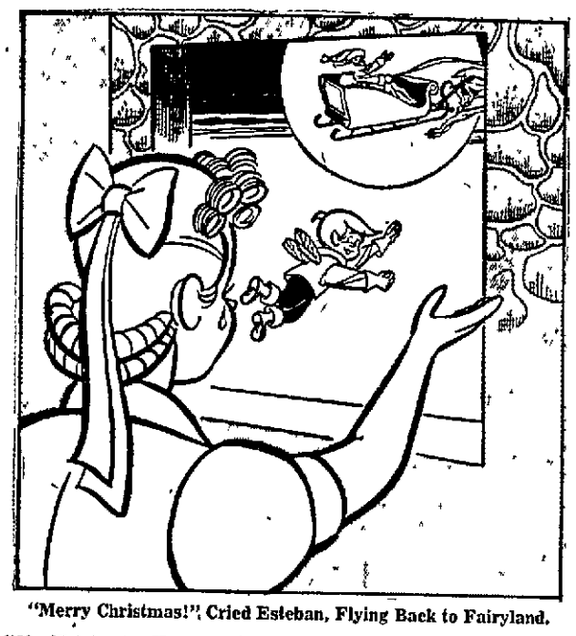
"My dear!" said the woman.

Then the professor's eyes filled with joy and he clasped his wife to him.

In a moment she said, "This boy tells me you plan to destroy all fairies. Can that be so?"

"Not any more," said the professor looking gratefully at Esteban. "I shall destroy the gas instead."

Once again he clasped his wife in his arms and Charlotte and Esteban slipped away.



"Merry Christmas!" Cried Esteban, Flying Back to Fairyland.

"Oh, Esteban! How wonderful you are!" cried Charlotte. "You have saved everyone! How happy I am!"

—:—

SHE DANCED into her own room and her eyes widened in astonishment. Standing in the center of the room was an enormous tree decorated with blue and silver balls. Under the tree was a mountain of gifts.

"It's from Santa!" cried Esteban laughing at the little girl's amazement. "Come see what you have!"

Charlotte dropped to her knees and reached for the gifts. The very first package she picked up was marked "For Esteban."

"What can it be?" cried Charlotte. "Open it, Esteban. Open it, do!"

Esteban tore off the wrapping and opened the box. He broke into a joyful cry. "It's my wings! I have my wings again! Quickly—fasten them on me!"

Wide-eyed with delight, the little girl took the beautiful fragile wings from his fingers and gently pinned them to the boy's shoulders.

—:—

IMMEDIATELY Esteban grew smaller and smaller until he stood no higher than Charlotte's socks. With a whoop of joy he spread his wings and flew to the window.

"Goodby, Charlotte. I must fly away now to Fairyland for that is where I belong."

But before she could speak he suddenly placed his finger to his lips and whispered "Listen!"

Charlotte listened and heard the tinkle of sleigh bells. She leaned out the window with the elf. Far above them they saw Santa and his reindeer circling in the light of the moon.

"Oh, Merry Christmas!" breathed Charlotte joyously.

"Merry Christmas!" cried Esteban spreading his wings and gliding away.

And from far above came Santa's answering call, "Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas to all!"

Harding Invades Fremont for Conference Battle

2 Changes Slated In Starting Lineup

Harding High School's basketballers travel to Fremont tonight to tangle with the Little Giants of Coach Leroy Marquette in a Buckeye Conference action.

And, there will be some new faces in the starting Prexy lineup.

Harding, after rolling over Kenton, 78-45, Columbus Aquinas, 58-42, and Shelby, 70-50, ran smack dab into a tough Sandusky defense in its first loop action and lost by a 58-51 count Then, in another league action Friday against Findlay, the Prexies were anything but impressive in triumphing over Findlay, 41-35.

AS A RESULT, Coach Don Knodel, who flatly asserts that his team has "made too many fundamental errors," has benched two starters "until such time as they are ready to play winning basketball."

When Harding takes the floor tonight, Ken Coffae, 5-8 junior, will be with Stan Larkin at the guards, and Paul Cressor, 6-2 sophomore, will be sharing the forward chores with Mike Chamberlain. Bob Middleton will jump center.

The insertion of Coffae and Cressor into the starting lineup figures to accomplish two things: 1. Give Harding better bench strength, and 2. Cut down on mistakes.

Coffae, Knodel said, "is the nearest thing we have to a leader" The Prexy coach observed that he had run his squad through scrimmage sessions Saturday and Monday afternoons and "the boys showed up much better on offense."

—:—

IN FREMONT, the Presidents will meet a team shy on height and with a record of only one win in five outings. Included in the defeats of the Little Giants were losses to Elyria and Lorain by scores of 88-38 and 66-40 respectively.

Marquette, in his first year as head of the Fremont cage fortunes, is a Findlay product and played basketball against Knodel when the latter was attending Miami University. The Harding coach observed that although Marquette is "having a tough time to date," he can be expected to have his boys "ready and waiting for Harding."

In all probability, the Little Giants' starting lineup tonight will include Roger Mann, 5-8, and Steve Cecil, 5-11, a pair of juniors, at the guards; Dennis Stine, 5-11 senior, and Reuben Lozana, 6-foot senior, at the forwards; and Dave Pankratz, 6-2 sophobore at center Thus, Harding will go into the action with a considerable height advantage, especially close into the boards.

KNODEL SAID the combination slated to take the floor tonight will probably be the one to meet Lorain Dec. 30. The Steelers are considered, along with Elyria, as the two teams most likely to be battling for the title at season's end

"Fremont's record is poor, but we haven't really done anything spectacular ourselves," the President coach said. "We, as yet, are still 'nice guys,' unwilling to get the other fellow in a hole and then take advantage of the situation."

He added, "If we go to Fremont tonight with the idea that a win is in the bag, we may well get slapped off our perch. We certainly have no reason yet to have a fat head."

Kuharich Begins Plans For '59 Football Season

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Joe Kuharich, Notre Dame's newly appointed football coach, begins setting up house today.

Kuharich, who Monday officially succeeded the ousted Terry Brennan, returns to his native South Bend and alma mater to meet with university officials and the press.

Kuharich might reveal some of his plans for the 1959 season but it is doubtful he will name his staff at so early a date.

The present Notre Dame staff includes assistant coaches Bernie Crimmins, Hugh Devore, Bill Fischer, Bill Walsh, Bernie Witucki and John Zilly. There were indications some will be retained.

Longest Contract

Kuharich, 41, a former Irish guard, signed a four-year contract — the longest ever given by Notre Dame.

"I am flattered and proud that they (Notre Dame) decided to give me the opportunity," said Kuharich. "It always has been my hope and prayer that I could return to Notre Dame."

In 1951, he guided the University of San Francisco to an undefeated season and then signed to head the Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League. He left collegiate ranks with a 25-14 record.

After a 4-8 season with the Cardinals in 1952 Kuharich left the team following a flareup with managing director Walter Wolfner.

Kuharich returned to the pro ranks in 1954 and piloted Washington to a 3-9 season. The following year he was named Professional Coach of the Year when Washington finished with an 8-4 record.

The Redskins have been slipping ever since. They were 6-6 in 1956, 5-6-1 in 1957 and 4-7-1 this season. Nevertheless, Redskin owner George Preston Marshall thought enough of Kuharich to sign him to a five-year contract last year.

Mike Nixon Is Signed

Marshall released Kuharich of his commitments and immediately signed Mike Nixon as head coach. Nixon had been Washington's backfield coach. Nixon has been coaching for 15 years—13 with the pros—but never has been the boss man.

Brennan, meanwhile, is looking for a job at the age of 30.

He says he's interested in coaching if the right opportunity comes along. His qualifications include five years of experience at Notre Dame where his teams won 32 games and lost 18 for a .640 percentage.

Buckeyes Nail 92-69 Decision

By The Associated Press

Northwestern, Minnesota and Ohio State—all playing in the friendly atmosphere of their home courts —defeated intersectional basketball foes with comparative ease Monday night.

Once beaten Northwestern scored its fifth victory of the season with a 75-69 decision over Washington; Minnesota evened its record at 3-3 by dumping Stanford, 72-61; and Ohio State scored its second triumph against four defeats by smothering Utah, 92-69.

Except for tonight's game in which Illinois is host to Stanford, Big Ten teams will take it easy over Christmas before returning to holiday competition during the weekend.

Washington, which had defeated both Wisconsin and Iowa in a midwest tour, found Northwestern too tough. The Huskies pulled within two points of Northwestern in the late minutes but a rash of fouls resulted in six straight Wildcat free throws and ultimate victory. Joe Rukhck and Nick Mantis led Northwestern with 18 points each.

Minnesota had to put on a strong second half rally to defeat Stanford after falling behind, 34-25, in a ragged first half. Stanford went ice cold and failed to score in the first 8½ minutes of the second half as Minnesota took a 35-34 lead. Ron Johnson had 23 points for the Gophers.

Ohio State, racing to a 53-29 halftime lead, had no trouble with Utah. The Buckeyes had five players in double figures led by Dick Furry and Larry Huston. Furry scored 22 points and Huston added 20.

Spahn, Miller Share Hurling Laurels in NL

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee captured most of the important pitching honors in the National League, the official 1958 averages released today showed

Among the titles Spahn did not win was the earned run crown That went to crafty Stu Miller, who won only six games and lost nine for San Francisco.

Spahn compiled 22 victories to share the top spot with Bob Friend of Pittsburgh. He also tied teammate Lew Burdette for winning percentage honors with .667. Spahn had a 22-11 record, Burdette 20-10.

Warren also pitched the most complete games, 23, the most innings, 290, and faced the most batsmen, 1,175.

Miller, 30-year-old right-hander, gave up 50 earned runs in 182 innings for a 2.47 ERA. His 6 victories was the lowest total ever posted by a major league earned run leader.

Sam (Toothpick) Jones of St. Louis finished second with a 2.88 mark. Then came Burdette 2.91; Spahn 3.07; Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, 3.23, and Johnny Antonellie of San Francisco, 3.27.

Spahn also extended his National League record for left-handers with his ninth season of 20 or more victories.

Jones struck out the most batsmen, 225, and issued the most bases on balls, 107. Rookie Carl Willey of Milwaukee led in shutouts with 4, while Antonelli and Don Newcombe, who played for Cincinnati and Los Angeles, allowed the most home runs, 31 each.

Friend, the Pirates' workhorse, made the most starts, 38. Don Elston Chicago Cubs' reliever, pitched in the most games, 69.

The champion Braves had the lowest team earned run average, 3.21, Pittsburgh was next with 3.56.

The Pirates' staff gave up the fewest homers, 123.

Iowa Favored

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — It's Iowa by a landslide

Football writers and other guests at a Rose Bowl luncheon Monday voted 77-7 in favor of the Hawkeyes when asked how they thought the game between Iowa and California could come out. The average point spread favored Iowa by 16.

Last Night's Fights

Philadelphia — Len Matthews, 132½, Philadelphia, drew with Ray Lancaster, 139, Spartanburg, S.C., 8.

Year's Top Feat

Performance of White Against Hawkeyes Cited

By The Associated Press

Bob White, Ohio State's big, willing and able fullback, turned in the most sensational one-game performance by any football player of the 1958 season when he led the Buckeyes to a 38-28 victory over Iowa's Big Ten champions.

That opinion was expressed by sports writers and broadcasters answering The Associated Press post - season questionnaire. The margin was nearly 3 to 1 over any comparable feat although Notre Dame's George Izo thrilled almost as many of the experts in the course of the season.

Of nearly 200 replies to the questionnaire, 26 listed White's one-man show against Iowa the most spectacular. In that game, White carried 33 times and gained 269 yards—just short of the Big Ten one-game record. More important, he lugged it 11 times as the Bucks smashed 61 yards in 14 plays for the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

That game previously had been listed as the outstanding performance by one team or two teams in a game by the voters.

It was a duel between White, the runner, and Randy Duncan, Iowa's superb passer. Duncan, incidentally, drew two nominations for his sensational passing in the same game, which netted 249 yards on 22 completions. The 210-pound White raced 71 yards for Ohio's second touchdown and scored two more on short bucks.

Rich Mayor, air-minded quarterback of the Air Force Academy, placed second in the voting with 9 ballots for his passing feats that brought a 33-29 victory over Oklahoma State. Mayor completed 28 of 45, nearly half of them in the final quarter.

Izo, a second-string Notre Dame quarterback in the early part of the season, attracted 14 votes for 3 different passing feats. Six experts thought the most sensational performance was Izo's passing against Pittsburgh, when he completed 18 of 26 for 332 yards. He also scored 2 touchdowns and passed for 2.

Six others listed Izo's passing against Navy in his first game as starting quarterback. Two picked his passing against Purdue.

Grid Games Sought

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The U.S. Air Force Academy wants to play football with Army and Navy in Memorial Coliseum - beginning in 1960, a Coliseum official says.

The Examiner said today negotiations are under way between Air Force Director George B. Simler and Bill Nicholas, Coliseum, manager. The games would be played during the regular season.

Deadline Beat By Redskins' New Mentor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three years shy of his self-imposed deadline, Mike Nixon has made it as a football head coach

Nixon was promoted Monday to chief coach of the Washington Redskins, succeeding Joe Kuharich. After five years with the 'Skins, Kuharich is moving on to Notre Dame.

The 47-year-old Nixon has been in pro football for 15 years, as player and assistant coach. In his college days, he starred as a halfback with the hard-nosed Pitt teams of Jock Sutherland

All this time, Nixon has harbored an ambition to become a head coach, to run the whole show instead of only part of it.

Recently he said "I don't have much time left. I'm sure I'll have to get a shot before I'm 50."

Redskins owner George Preston Marshall said Nixon was the only man he considered to replace Kuharich. No information was given out on salary or other terms.

Gifford Also Hurt

Gridiron Injuries Hinder Grier, Huff

NEW YORK (AP) — What new trick will the New York Giants come up with against the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League championship game next Sunday?

Fans in this suddenly professional football crazy town still were buzzing about the razzle-dazzle double reverse lateral that produced the only touchdown in last Sunday's spectacular 10-0 New York triumph over Cleveland for the Eastern division title.

Special Play Pays

"That was the Brown special," Coach Jim Lee Howell confided today. "We called it 'the thing' all week but we finally decided on a better name."

If the Giants had a "Ewbank special" to throw at Coach Weeb Ewbank's Colts next week, they weren't saying It's a safe bet they'll practice any new play in private.

Two Giants who undoubtedly will not participate in the workouts until late in the week are Rosey Grier and Sam Huff. Both suffered painful injuries last week but don't bet against their appearing in the lineup against the Colts.

Grier on Crutches

Grier, the massive defensive tackle, is on crutches as a result of a leg injury sustained when he was blocked in a play. Huff, who did such a tremendous hawking job on Jimmy Brown (the Browns' fullback star was held to eight yards in seven rushes), may have a cracked rib.

On the brighter side, Howell reported that Jack Stroud, who missed the last three games, probably will be ready for action at tackle on offense. Buzz Guy, with a chipped ankle bone, definitely will be missing at guard.

Frank Gifford, who led the ground gainers with 95 yards Sunday, was limping as a result of an injury to his left knee but he is expected to be in shape to start. So will Alex Webster, who played last week despite two badly bruised knees.

Daugherty Limits Eastern Practice

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty who handles the East team for Saturday's Shrine charity game doesn't believe in a head knocking practice routine.

He declared his 24 charges will have no scrimmages during their week of preparation and will hold only one workout per day.

Daugherty's charges posed for pictures at their Santa Clara training camp Monday and worked for a half hour.

At Stanford, Coach Jack Curtice of the West says he'll continue to hold two drills a day as he installs his wing T offense.

Xavier Suffers Setback, Bows To Marquette

By The Associated Press

Eddie Hickey, the old maestro from St. Louis, quit his job as basketball coach and athletic director - there nine months ago to take over at Marquette.

St. Louis always had been a basketball power and there was no reason to believe Hickey wouldn't find himself in clover again this year if he stayed around.

But Marquette, not exactly a doormat, just about kept around the .500 mark. Last season, the Warriors wound up with an 11-11 record after losing their first 4. Jack Nagle, who had coached Marquette for five years, resigned at the end of the season.

In April, Hickey entered, and as of today, Marquette has an 8-1 mark.

Monday night Milwaukee fans carried him and Ed Smith, his assistant, off the court following Marquette's 86-71 victory over previously unbeaten Xavier of Ohio.

Hickey's newly installed, blazing fast-break left Xavier befuddled. Mike Moran, Marquette's 6-3 pivot man, collected 28 points.

Xavier is No. 10 in the current Associated Press poll and was the only member of the top 10 to play Monday night. Marquette is No. 17, one spot, ironically, behind St. Louis.

Northwestern, knocked out of the select circle after being dumped by North Carolina in the final of the Blue Grass tournament, dropped Washington 75-69 in an intersectional game. The Wildcats had to score 11 points midway through the second half to erase a four-point Huskie lead.

Seattle, runner-up to Kentucky for the NCAA championship last year, recorded its sixth victory against one loss (to Xavier, no less), by rebounding from an eight-point halftime deficit to whip Marshall 91-80.

Kentucky's Cagers Nail First Place

By The Associated Press

Kentucky's basketball coach Adolph Rupp had a Merry Christmas two days early today as the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters voted his Wildcats the top team in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The Baron, whose team is defending national collegiate champion, was still enjoying the results of a successful weekend when informed of the Wildcats' choice as top team.

"We're simply delighted," he said.

Clips Mountaineers

Kentucky won its own invitational tournament over the weekend, defeating Ohio State and West Virginia. The Wildcats also had a victory over Maryland last week. Results of games through Saturday determine the poll positions.

Cincinnati, first a week ago, dropped to second, receiving 61 first place votes compared to Kentucky's 71. The Wildcats totalled 1,443 points to Cincy's 1,415. Both are unbeaten, Kentucky with an 8-0 record, Cincinnati 5-0.

Unbeaten North Carolina (5-0) is third with 19 first place votes, and 1,076 points. The points are awarded on a 10 for first, 9 for second, etc. basis.

The Tarheels made the biggest jump, coming from 10th place, with three triumphs in four days including the Blue Grass invitational title.

Kansas State dropped a notch to fourth place, losing to Brigham Young, but bouncing back to drop North Carolina State and St. Joseph's (Pa.) from the unbeaten ranks.

West Virginia Jumps

Despite its loss to Kentucky in the championship game of the Kentucky Invitational, West Virginia jumped from seventh to fifth place. North Carolina State holds sixth, and Mississippi State climbed a place to seventh, with its 7-0 record.

Auburn and Michigan State, with five and four victories respectively, were the two newcomers to the poll. The Tigers jumped from 13th to eighth place. Michigan State climbed from 11th to ninth.

Xavier of Ohio is 10th, a one position drop.

The top ten teams with won-lost records through Saturday, Dec. 20 in parentheses:

1. Kentucky	(8-0)	1,443
2. Cincinnati	(5-0)	1,415
3. North Carolina	(5-0)	1,076
4. Kansas State	(6-1)	831
5. West Virginia	(7-2)	597
6. North Carolina St.	(6-1)	581

NLRB Hearing Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—A hearing of an unfair labor practice complaint filed by Ex-Cell-O Corp. against the United Auto Workers will be held Feb. 17 in Bluffton, Ohio.

The hearing date was set Monday by the National Labor Relations Board office here.

The machine tool firm, which has plants at Lima and Fostoria, claims the UAW refused to bargain for the unit certified at its Bluffton plant. The UAW wants to bargain on a company-wide basis.

Tax Adopted

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—A city income tax of one half of one per cent will be collected from those who work or reside in Ravenna after Jan. 1. The tax was adopted as an emergency measure by a 6-1 vote in City Council Monday. The tax replaces a one per cent income tax approved by council last year, but which voters rejected in the Nov 4 election.

Jim Ninowski, Plum To Lead Browns' Attack

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown says there will be some changes in the Cleveland Browns lineup for 1959, but Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski will remain as quarterbacks.

The Browns had trouble developing an effective passing attack this season and for only the second time in nine seasons failed to win the Eastern Conference title of the National Football League.

Asked if he was looking for another quarterback, Brown replied:

"We have no plans other than to go with Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski.

"Jim will be with us from the beginning of training camp next summer and he will get a full opportunity in the exhibition games.

"Milt now has a full year's experience behind him and that means a lot. We think we can build with those two."

Of the rest of the lineup Brown said:

"We have problems, but we hope to be able to solve them. We need more speed at offensive end and we could use some help in the way of internal lineman."

Don Colo, veteran defensive tackle, and defensive halfback Don Paul have announced their retirement. Several others including offensive end Darrell (Pete) Brewster may retire.

Place - kicking specialist Lou Groza, last of the original Browns, figures in next season's plans, Brown said.

However, he added, "We would like to give him some relief at offensive tackle if we can find the player."

"All in all," Brown concluded, "I'd call the outlook very encouraging."

Three Persons Fined

Three persons were fined $25 and costs each in Marion Municipal Court Monday on disorderly conduct charges. They were Elizabeth Glenn, 20, of 190 E. Mark St., and Marsha Shroats, 20, of 488½ E. Mark St., who were arrested for fighting on W. Mill St., and Mack McCane, 46, of 489 W. Church St., who also was charged with intoxication.

Irish Quintet Preparing for Carnival Play

The feature sports attraction at Marion Catholic High School this week will be the annual holiday basketball carnival, with two games schedule Friday and Saturday nights.

This year's card will feature Mansfield St. Peter vs. Upper Sandusky at 7:30 p.m. Friday, followed by a game between the Irish and Delaware Willis.

The two losers will tangle at 7:30 p.m. Saturday with the winners clashing for the carnival title in the nightcap.

Delaware Willis comes to town as defending champion. The Panthers carried off top honors last season by downing Upper's Rams 53-48. Marion Catholic was the third place finisher by virtue of outclassing Sycamore 67-48.

Mansfield St. Peter replaced Sycamore for this season's carnival.

Admission prices for the cage action will be 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children.

Coach Ray Robbins, who was running his cagers through a stiff practice session today voiced satisfaction with their progress and suggested that some surprises might be in store for Irish fans come Friday night's scrap with Delaware.

Firm Has Yule Party

A Christmas dinner party for employes and their wives was held by the Peacock Brothers Plumbing and Heating Co., Inc., Friday night at Hotel Harding.

During the evening, special recognition of his association with the company for 10 years was given Lowell Davis. He was presented a gift by John Peacock and Merle Peacock, co-owners of the firm.

Cards and dancing provided entertainment after dinner.

Planning, Daring Chief Factors in Ewbank Plan

BALTIMORE (AP) — Weeb Ewbank is built physically along the lines of Napoleon.

He has the same self-assurance to the point of defiance and with it has reached the heights in football coaching.

Ewbank combined detailed planning with battle daring to lead the Baltimore Colts to the title in the Western Conference of the National Football League in a relatively short five campaigns.

He challenges one of the old powers of the league for the championship of the pro kingdom Sunday.

Although Ewbank labored long in the obscurity of sports vineyards, there was nothing backward about him when he took on was about him when he took on the job of coaching the last place Colts.

He promptly proclaimed he intended to "start a regime" such as the one built by the Cleveland Browns, where he had been an assistant to Paul Brown.

At Ewbank's introduction to Baltimore, owner Carroll Rosenbloom immediately put him on a spot by saying "we've promised the people of Baltimore a winner. Until we give it to them, we won't be happy."

Ewbank, then 46 and a head coach of a major team for the first time, accepted the challenge calmly.

"If hard work will do it, we have the possibility of attainment," he said.

Hard work is Ewbank's forte. He's a demon in his devotion to detail. Meticulous grading of every player on every play in a game, giving them written exams and endless scanning of movies are most important to him.

Negotiations Opened

Veeck Discusses Plans To Buy Into White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Veeck, baseball's wandering merchant, is negotiating to buy into the Chicago White Sox.

The former owner of the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns said Monday night "there have been some discussions" between himself and Mrs. Dorothy Rigney, largest stockholder of the White Sox.

Mrs. Rigney, wife of co-Vice President John Rigney and sister of co-Vice President Chuck Comiskey, confirmed sale of her stock shares to an outside syndicate may be imminent.

"My White Sox stock has not yet been sold," said Mrs. Rigney, "but I have to admit that our attorneys have been negotiating the sale of the stock. Yes, negotiations are going on."

Veeck, visiting relatives in suburban Downers Grove, apologized for not being able to give out more information.

"I hate to be uncommunicative and usually I'm not," he said. "But I cannot say any more right now. I'm sure Mrs. Rigney can say more about it and whatever she says will be correct."

A source close to the American League baseball club said Veeck, who made a previous offer for Mrs. Rigney's interest in the White Sox, now was pondering a higher price asked in a counter-proposal.

Veeck has been out of baseball since the Browns were transferred to Baltimore in 1954. He bought the Indians in 1946 at the age of 32 and won a world championship in 1948. He and his partners sold out in 1949.

Since being out of baseball, Veeck unsuccessfully tried to buy the Detroit Tigers in 1956 and Cleveland last summer.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Rigney's brother, Chuck, has been eager to gain control of the club since the death of his mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, in 1956.

Ditch Job Okayed By Commissioners

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Commissioners here have approved one ditch cleaning and straightening project but have continued another ditch cleaning proposal until a later date.

Approved is the petition for the improvement of County Ditch 914 in Bucyrus Township, petitioned for by Elmer H. Stevenson and others. The ditch is 1 54 miles long and has a watershed which involves a portion of Tod Township.

Continued was the hearing on the estimated assessments for the cleaning of Thatcher Ditch in Polk Township to allow the county engineer and commissioners to view a partly-tiled lateral ditch which enters the ditch. No date was set for the continuation of hearing.

The original petition was filed by Elmer L. Thatcher and others. Some landowners filed another petition, objecting to the project on the basis of estimated cost. The project and cost have since been reduced.

The present project calls for improving 1.36 miles of the ditch.

McMillen, Whirlpool, Pollak, Cardington Cagers Nail Wins

In four open league basketball games played Monday night, McMillen slipped past Goodyear 34-32, Pollak Steel got past Fulfillment 46-44, Whirlpool romped over Technical Service 78-43, and Cardington Locker cut off the Telephone cagers 55-52.

McMillen, with Matthews rolling in 11 points, led at the quarter 11-7, was atop a 23-15 halftime count but trailed 28-26 before rallying to gain the victory. Roger McCombs tallied 14 points for Goodeyar, with Bud England adding 11.

Pollak Steel also had to come from behind for its win. The Steelmen were trailing Fulfillment 15-10 at quarter's end, found the knot tied at 26-26 at the midway point but were in arrears by a 39-34 total after three periods of play.

The Jessie brothers combined terms to account for 26 of Pollak's total points. Darrel Stoner rimmed Pollak buckets for 19 digits to pace the losers.

Whirlpool had little trouble with Technical Service, leading 20-7 at the quarter, 43-24 at the half and 62-32 as the finale rolled around.

Larry Hickman posted 25 points to lead the Whirlpool five, while Bob Hughes got 13 and Norm Buyer and Bob Williams both 10. Shonk tallied 12 for the losing cause.

Cardington, with Lowell Yake getting 12 points, tied the Telephone five at 11-11 after a quarter of play. They led 26-21 at the half but had fallen in arrears by a 41-34 count at the three-quarter mark. A last period point splurge saved the day.

Moore Won't Say He's Satisfied

It is significant to Garry Moore that, for three or four weeks now, his wife hasn't attempted to avoid conversation about his TV efforts when he arrives home after each Tuesday night show.

Marie Torre

The elfin humorist, quite accurately, interprets Mrs. Moore's willingness to discuss the show as a sign of improvement, which is something he could have gathered from his slowly but surely rising rating, or the fact that there are now four sponsors ready to rush in should one of his present bankrollers decline further support.

For the first time since he abandoned the peace and obscurity of daytime television, Moore looks like a man about to earn his next million and, by rule, secure people are honest people, honest about their errors, that is.

MOORE IS THE FIRST to admit that his original night-time show had plenty of errors, and he's not even sure that they've all been weeded out.

"I'll put it this way," he said. "If we don't get any worse than we are now, then we're in good shape. I won't say I'm satisfied. I hope I'm never satisfied. There'd be nothing more to shoot for if I were. But I do think we're home with the show."

In the beginning, as most of Moore's critics pointed out, the program strayed far afield. The contents and settings were foreign both to Moore and his devotees.

"Here I went from an informal, strictly ad lib daytime show to a thing of studied sophistication. The change was sort of startling, and terribly wrong for me. For the first time in my career I found myself with a big budget and time to rehearse, and I permited myself to be led down a path of elegance.

"Take the opening we used to have, for example. There'd be music, lights flashing, theater marquees diffused in the rain — and, midst all the fanfare, I'd walk out, all 5 feet, 7 inches of me.

"It was ludicrous. It was as if somebody had handed me a skull and said go play 'Hamlet,' and I did. I did things Cyril Ritchard should have been doing."

IN RECENT WEEKS, the Moore show has been taking happy shape with the help of a new director, Bob Banner (formerly with Dinah Shore). That it's taken the show some 11 weeks to find itself doesn't surprise Moore.

"It's the story of my life," he chortled. "Years ago, on radio, when I teamed up with Jimmy Durante for a radio series, we drew such poor response on the opening that the sponsor wanted to cancel out after the third week.

"Well, we lasted together on radio five years. When I started the daytime show on CBS, it was panned, but we stayed on eight years. 'I've Got a Secret' wasn't embraced by everybody either when it came on in 1952, but we're still on, and in the top 10 to boot.

"Now about my night-time show," he added with an amused air. "Like I said, it's the story of my life."

-:-

ED MURROW has set next Sunday as the date for Vivien Leigh's "Small World" chat with Samuel Goldwyn and critic Kenneth Tynan. . . .

The "Maisie" stories, which filled Ann Sothern's coffers in old movie days, will serve as a weekly series for Janis Paige. . . .

Christmas Eve Bing Crosby will do what he's been doing every Christmas Eve since 1955 — sing out from CBS Radio. Crosby will be joined by his wife (Kathy Grant) for this year's "Christmas Sing With Bing." . . .

Footage from Bob Hope's trip to 12 European bases ("Operation Santa Claus") will be on the comedian's Jan. 16 show, and he's hoping NBC will give him 90 minutes.

Elvis Presley's Christmas cards show the rock 'n' roller in uniform, with his manager, Col. Tom Parker, dressed as Santa Claus. The card also includes the notation: "1958, All Rights Reserved." In the opinion of legal men, however, Christmas is in public domain, has been for 1,958 years.

Simple Candy Recipe for Teen-Agers

Light Nut Caramels Are Easy To Prepare for Gifts or Treats

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Found: The perfect recipe for the chewy candy that teenagers enjoy making and eating.

Years ago when a friend of ours was at college, training to be a dietitian, one of her textbooks was the invaluable "Hows and Whys of Cooking" by Evelyn G. Halliday and Isabel T. Noble (The University of Chicago Press). The girls in the dietetic class soon discovered that the book contained a mean recipe for caramels! Around holiday time, they cooked up the candy for gifts; other times of the year they made and sold batches of it for pin money.

Recently this caramel recipe, matched against another standard one, came out the winner. Here is our adaptation of the textook rule. The main ingredients stay in their original proportions, but we've added vanilla because it gives these light bland caramels delicate flavor; and we've particularized the method so that young cooks who have not had the benefit of a home economics classroom will find it easy to follow.

When big sisters go into the kitchen to make something sweet to eat, little sisters are sure to follow. We find such moppets are perfectly happy marking off and cutting up the pieces of waxed paper needed for wrapping the candy. Then when the caramels are ready to be wrapped, they'll be ready to help do this work. But remember that small hands will "close" each candy wrapping most successfully by twirling its ends.

LIGHT NUT CARAMELS

Ingredients: 1 cup sugar, 1 cup light corn syrup, 1 cup light cream, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 1 cup chopped walnuts or pecans, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Place sugar, corn syrup, cream and butter in a large (about 3 quarts) heavy saucepan; mix well. Cook over moderate heat, stirring occasionally. When the mixture begins to "caramelize", lower the heat and cook, stirring constantly, to 244 degrees on a candy thermometer; or until a teaspoonful of the mixture, when dropped into a cup of very cold water, forms a firm ball that does not flatten when it is removed from the water. Stir in the nuts and vanilla. Pour into one corner of a lightly buttered cake pan (8 by 8 by 12 inches) allowing the mixture to flow and level of its own accord. Allow to stand until cold. Turn the block of candy onto a cutting board. Mark off into ¾-inch squares; cut with a sharp knife. Wrap caramels individually in waxed paper. Makes about 1¼ pounds.

Chocolate Nut Caramels: Follow recipe for light Nut Caramels, adding 1 square (1 ounce) unsweetened chocolate after mixture has reached boiling point.

CANDY HANDICRAFT. Making a chewy candy isn't any complicated affair with this recipe. It's simple enough so teen-agers can enjoy both making it and eating it.

Most Cherished Privilege

Legislators Go for Free Statehouse Lot Parking

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Free parking in the statehouse lot is the most cherished perquisite of Ohio legislators.

You can take the word of veteran Senate Clerk Thomas E. Bateman for that. Bateman and House Clerk Carl Guess have wrestled with the problem of assigning parking places in the overcrowded lots, during recent sessions.

They are turning that thankless task over to clerks of the incoming Democratic - controlled legislature on Jan. 5. The new clerks will be Joseph W. Bartunek of Cleveland in the Senate and Arthur H. Milleson of Freeport in the House.

"Next to their salaries, they prize that free parking more than anything else," Bateman said of the law-makers. "The pressure gets hot and heavy at times. The new clerks are welcome to that headache," he mused.

Free parking is only one of the perquisites accruing to members of the General Assembly, who draw $5,000 a year in salaries.

They have virtually unlimited use of local and long-distance telephones for state business and all of their considerable correspondence is mailed out for them at state expense.

Each of the 139 members of the next House and 33 Senate members will find 1,000 sheets of paper and envelopes at his desk on arrival. That supply will be replenished any time during the session.

Each lawmaker can call on a secretary to take his dictation and write his letters. Each house maintains a secretarial pool for that purpose.

Have Own Secretaries

But majority and minority leaders of each house have their own secretaries for their private offices. So do the chairman of finance committees in each house.

The speaker of the House and the Senate majority floor leader each draw an extra $2,500-a-year in salary for a total of $7,500. The new speaker is Rep. James A. Lantz of Lancaster. The new Senate Democratic floor leader is Sen. Frank W. King of Toledo.

House Speaker Roger Cloud of Bellefontaine and Senate Republican Leader C. Stanley Mechem of Athens of past legislatures will be minority leaders in the new session and take $2,500 cuts in pay.

Legislators receive $600 a month while in session. The balance of their pay is pro-rated during the rest of their terms. All House members serve for two years. Half the senators in the coming session were elected for two-year terms and the rest for four years. Starting in 1960, most state Senate terms will be for four years.

Allowed 10-Cents Per Mile

All legislators are allowed 10 cents a mile for transportation each week between their homes and the statehouse by the most direct route during sessions. Lawmakers living in Columbus don't even receive bus fare.

New members also receive a free copy of Ohio's code of laws. Reelected members get supplements to bring their codes up to date. Members also receive daily copies of House and Senate journals, detailing their work while the session lasts.

Votes To Incorporate

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — North Ridgeville is officially a village, the largest in area in Lorain County. Leota B. Mitchell, county recorder, made it official Monday when she certified to the secretary of state the 1,452 to 475 vote cast Nov. 4 favoring incorporation. The new village, which covers 23¼ square miles, has a population estimated at over 7,400.

Six Are Selected As Semifinalists For Visit Abroad

Interviews with the six Harding High School students remaining in competition for the opportunity to spend next summer abroad under the American Field Service program will be held Tuesday, Jan. 6, Darl Gatchell, chairman of the selection committee, reported today.

He said the number of junior class applicants was narrowed down to six during a second screening meeting held Monday afternoon at the high school.

Mr. Gatchell explained that four students will be chosen from the six as finalists at the local level. Their names will be submitted to the field service's New York office for selection of one from the four to participate in the summer experience abroad.

According to the committee chairman, the local finalists probably will be announced the same week in which the interviews take place. The interviews will be held following school dismissal Jan. 6.

The summer visitation is a counterpart to the winter program under which Tim Rothe of Denmark currently is studying as a senior at Harding. Because of Harding's participation in the exchange program, this school is the only one in this area qualified to send a student overseas.

The Marion Rotary Club will finance the major portion of the project and the student will be asked to finance the balance of the trip from his own funds.

The American Field Service summer program gives students in this country an opportunity to learn about people of other countries and to teach foreign families more about the United States.

Members of the selection committee, working under the direction of the local American Field Service Committee headed by Smith H. Witter, are Ray Silver, Harding assistant principal; Mr. Witter, Ralph T. Lewis, Wayne H. Kuhn, Jill Howswer, student council president; Tim Rothe and Mr. Gatchell.

Nearly Billion Worth of B36s To Be Junked

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—All but a few of the only American airplanes which could drop hydrogen bombs on the Soviet Union and return home without refueling are being junked.

The mighty B36s are obsolete. The 10-engine bombers are no match for supersonic missiles.

A few of the big planes will be kept in service at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas. The rest of them are being assembled at Davis-Monthan AFB in Arizona, where they'll be scrapped for salvage.

The Air Force built more than 300 of the B36s at a cost of three million dollars each. It won't say exactly how many are to be junked, or how much money the government hopes to reclaim from the planes.

The B36 once was the most deadly weapon of the Air Force. It can carry 84,000 pounds of load and fly nonstop in 28 hours from Maine to Japan.

Crown Prince 25
